Assembly May Meet Saturday on Mideast Crisis

FAST ACTION IN HOUSE ON MAJOR BILLS

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
WASHINGTON (AP)—The House was set today to check off two more major items on its end-of-session work list—a bill to extend the reciprocal trade program and a record peace-time defense money bill.

Quick House approval was expected for compromise versions of both bills. The Senate was likely to act on them soon.

A Senate-House conference committee agreed to extend the trade program four years and to give the President authority to cut tariffs up to 20 per cent during that period. This is somewhat less than President Eisenhower requested, but he appeared likely to go along.

A separate conference group voted to recommend 39½ billion dollars for defense in the current fiscal year. This is about $800 million more than Eisenhower asked.

In a heavy work day Wednesday, the House:

1. Defeated a farm bill which would have lowered some price supports. Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said that as far as he is concerned that ends (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Fugitive Tries To Purchase Ride With $100 Note

YORK, Pa. (AP)—A free-spending prisoner tried to further his escape from York County jail today by offering a passing motorist a $100 bill for a ride to Harrisburg.

Warden J. Clyde Sweeney said Charles Allen Elston, 37, of Downingtown RD 2, made his escape after bolting past a deputy warden and smashing through open prison gates on the edge of town.

Sweeney said Robert G. Paulus, York, was en route to work when he innocently gave Elston a ride through the city. Sweeney said Elston showed Paulus a $100 bill and offered to give it to him in return for a ride to Harrisburg less than 20 miles away.

Paulus turned down the offer, he said, and went to work where he later learned through a radio broadcast that he had given the escapee a lift.

Sweeney said that when Elston was arrested on morals charges July 19, he was believed to have four $100 bills on his person. He said guards found three of the bills sewed into a makeshift pleat in his underwear. The other bill never was found.

Fate of Monkey in Plastic Balloon Flight is in Doubt

CROSBY, Minn. (AP)—A huge plastic balloon, the largest ever built, climbed to an altitude of about 60,000 feet today then burst. The fate of a monkey and other living animals aboard was not known immediately.

It was the second failure of attempts to put such a large balloon into space. An identical gas bag burst at 40,000 feet July 30. It was struck by a strong jet-stream wind.

The balloon carried a female monkey, frogs, goldfish and some smaller organisms on the flight destined to reach 125,000 feet in an Air Force cosmic ray experiment.

It was launched from a deep open pit iron mine near here shortly before 6 a.m. Radio contact with the balloon was lost at 7 a.m.

Cargos attached to balloons usually are suspended by parachutes designed to carry the payload safely to earth. Air Force tracking crews were

Don't Get Excited By Light Near Moon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't get excited, folks. That strange light seen near the moon Wednesday night and early today was merely the planet Mars.

That's the official word from the U. S. Naval Observatory here.

Observatory scientists made a quick check after newspaper switchboards across the country became swamped with calls inquiring about "the strange light near the moon."

And a spokesman for the Lick Observatory near San Francisco said Mars often comes in near alignment with the moon, causing unusual light effects.

Torch Burning Is Linked With Blaze at Flint

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—Michigan Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams said today he is convinced Teamsters business agent Frank Kierdorf became a human torch while trying to set fire to a cleaning shop at nearby Flint.

Adams and other investigators told newsmen that Kierdorf's story, that he was abducted and set afire Sunday night by two assailants he didn't know, was falling apart.

The attorney general said a witness whose identity was not disclosed told him he viewed explosions and heard anguished cries from inside the fiery building. The witness reportedly was being held in protective custody at a secret location.

Adams told his second news conference today he believes the witness' story is true.

The 56-year-old Kierdorf, a business agent for a Teamsters Union local at Flint, staggered into a Pontiac Hospital at 1 a. m. Monday. He was burned over 85 per cent of his body, and is not expected to live.

Adams linked the burning with an explosion and fire Sunday night at the Latrelle cleaners at Flint. The fire was reported at 11 p. m. Kierdorf (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Steelworkers Pledge MacDonald Support

By JOHN MOODY
WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Delegates to the annual conference of United Steelworkers Dist. 13 today were on record as pledging full support to the administration of USW President David J. McDonald.

A resolution adopted late Wednesday promised support for McDonald against any effort within or outside the big union to unseat him as president.

The stated purpose is to gather information on potential hazard to space operations.

The flight is part of the series in which the Air Force plans to send a man to about 100,000 feet from the same launching site next week. The aim in that trial is to gather information for manned satellite tests.

The monkey which is part of the 200-pound payload in today's ascension is a 13-pound female. Radiation-sensitive plates are attached to the monkey to measure the number and intensity of cosmic rays, and she will be examined after the return to earth, to determine radiation effects.

"The flight was planned so that the monkey could not be harmed as a result of the test," the ARDC announcement emphasized.

The bill was supported in the senate by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.). Sen. Edward Martin voted against it, but was the sponsor of an administration bill to provide a 50-million dollar revolving fund for industry.

Dulles Due Back From Brazil Today

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles is due back from Brazil today to speed work on development of new U. S. policies for the Middle East. These may aim at neutralizing the area in the cold war.

State Department officials said efforts are being made to develop practical proposals by which the unstable, strategic area could be insulated from the Soviet-Western power struggle. Some referred to the process as trying to find a way to bring about a disengagement of the great powers in the Middle East.

Dulles left here Sunday on a flying trip to confer with Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek. He was expected to report promptly to President Eisenhower on his return.

Official sources in Rio de Janeiro said Dulles and Kubitschek agreed on a summit conference of the 21 American presidents to be held later this year. Detailed planning reportedly was left to the Washington ambassadors of the various nations in this hemisphere.

But of more immediate import is the preparation of a set of U. S. proposals for dealing with Middle Eastern problems.

The U. N. Security Council meets in New York today to arrange for an emergency meeting of the U. N. General Assembly. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev suggested this—instead of an immediate summit meeting within the Security Council.

Formosa Echoes With Warnings of War

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Formosa echoed with warnings of war today. Various official nationalist spokesmen reported:

1. All Nationalist China—Formosa, the Pescadores and the island outposts off the Communist mainland—is in a state of emergency.

2. Troops manning Formosa's coastal defenses have been reinforced.

3. Nationalist ground, sea and air forces are in full combat readiness.

4. Air raid precautions were urged on the public.

Hopeful for Bill To Aid Depressed Areas in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. Rep. Daniel J. Flood says he is confident a bill to aid chronically depressed areas will gain house passage if it is cleared by the House Rules Committee.

The Wilkes-Barre Democrat joined two Pennsylvania Republicans, Reps. James E. Van Zandt and Ivor Fenton, Wednesday in urging the committee to act on the bill. The committee took no action.

The bill, as passed by the Senate, would provide a 300-million dollar fund for loans to establish new industries in depressed areas throughout the nation. Another 75 million dollars would be provided for grants to communities in need of public improvements, such as water and sewer systems. All three congressmen are from areas where unemployment is running high.

The bill was supported in the senate by Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.). Sen. Edward Martin voted against it, but was the sponsor of an administration bill to provide a 50-million dollar revolving fund for industry.

Kinzua Driver Is Involved in Fatal Traffic Accident

A Kinzua truck driver was involved in a fatal accident on a straight stretch of Marshburg road about five miles west of Custer City near Bradford at 8:50 last evening, killing a Michigan man and injuring his wife and a Bradford construction worker returning home from Warren.

Killed was Roy D. Cusick, 45, Grand Rapids, Mich., driver of a 1955 car that sideswiped a loaded log truck driven by Clair W. Hyskell, 27, Kinzua. Cusick's wife Anne, 43, is in Bradford Hospital with a fracture and severe lacerations of the left arm, cuts of the forehead and left knee. Anthony Frisina, 42, 147 Elm street, Bradford, was hitchhiking home after working on a construction job at Penelec here in Warren. He had missed his regular ride home.

Frisina suffered a forehead gash and multiple body contusions. Driver of the truck escaped injury.

Hyskell reported to State Police that a car approached him with high beams on, although it just turned twilight and seemed to edge toward his side of the road. Hyskell said he had at least half of his truck on the shoulder of the road when the car struck the truck just back of the cab.

Impact of the Bradford-bound car sheared away its top on the left side. Debris was scattered for hundreds of feet.

Cusick lived five minutes after the accident. His left leg was severed below the knee, his left shoulder was nearly torn away and he sustained a crushed chest and multiple head and face lacerations.

The Kinzua driver was enroute to Barrett Lumber Co., Kinzua.

JORDAN PROJECT

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—American and Jordanian officials broke ground today on the largest irrigation project ever undertaken in this desert kingdom.

The project is being financed jointly by Jordan and the United States, with the latter providing most of the initial funds. A 41-mile canal to be dug will irrigate 30,000 acres.

Dollar Days are here again! Tomorrow and Saturday in Warren the Retail Merchants Division, Warren Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring an annual promotion that each year offers the most outstanding savings possible to shoppers.

In addition to offering sales items to customers this weekend, the 70 participating stores are also giving customers a chance to win a first prize that is valued at $500. The grand award is a 1952 Pontiac sedan in good running condition with the inside loaded with groceries shown in the above picture and with 50 gallons of Keystone gasoline as an added bonus.

This "car full of groceries" is one of ten prizes to be given away; the others include: Pop-Up Toaster, Brazier Grill, Dinner for four, two $10 gift certificates, Schaeffer Snorkel Pen, Bird Cage Planter, Arpage Cologne and Perfume, $7.50 Gift Certificate, and two months free Culligans Soft Water Service.

To be eligible to win any of these prizes, customers are asked only to register in any of the stores displaying the Dollar Day Banners. Monday the registration slips will be picked up and mixed together for the drawings that will determine the winners of the grand prize and other ten awards.

Tonight's newspaper carries several pages of advertising that indicate the great savings that can be obtained by area shoppers who visit Warren Friday and Saturday for "Dollar Days".

Herbert Grosberg, Hoffa's accountant, testified he destroyed the net worth statement on orders of George S. Fitzgerald, one of Hoffa's lawyers. But Grosberg said this was before the committee tried to subpoena the document.

The committee ran into a dead end in its effort to find out detail on $60,322 of Hoffa income between 1948 and 1956.

A committee investigator ticked off, from Hoffa's tax returns, items totaling that amount. They were listed as gambling gains, miscellaneous earnings and collections received.

Wider Coverage To Salaried C.D. Employees Urged

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 1959 Legislature will be asked to extend civil service coverage to salaried Civil Defense employees to qualify Pennsylvania for between $500,000 and $750,000 in federal aid.

Richard Gerstell, executive director of the state Civil Defense Council, made this disclosure today.

"Our volunteer manpower is at an all-time high," he told a newsman. "But this federal aid will help us at both the state and local level insofar as salaried personnel are concerned."

He said there are now 36 salaried persons working for the council but that if civil service protection is given by the next Legislature the figure would be increased to 60.

Gerstell said the new federal appropriation would provide for uniforming many of the 20,000 auxiliary police in Pennsylvania.

This would be an innovation under the CD program which has provided financial assistance only for equipment and supplies. Pennsylvania's CD forces now number more than 440,000 men and women, representing all counties, an increase of 76,000 over last year.

U. N. SECURITY COUNCIL CONVENES TO TAKE UP OPPOSING RESOLUTIONS

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—U. N. delegates predicted today that the General Assembly would meet by Saturday to deal with the Middle East crisis but would not get down to debate until next week.

The Security Council meets this afternoon to take up rival U. S. and Soviet resolutions calling the emergency Assembly session.

The expectation was that the 11-nation Council would approve the U. S. resolution tonight or Friday and that the 81-nation Assembly would meet Friday or Saturday.

The assembly must be convened within 24 hours after Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld receives a request for an emergency session approved by any seven Council members. The permanent Council members' veto cannot be invoked against a resolution authorizing the Assembly session.

President Eisenhower told a news conference he would make an appearance at the Assembly session if he found it necessary or desirable. Russians at the United Nations said they doubted that Soviet Premier Khrushchev would come to New York.

Informed sources said the United States would put forward a plan which would operate through the United Nations to stabilize the Middle East. The objectives would be to deal with the problems of Arab nationalism, water shortage and Palestine Arab refugees.

The American and Soviet resolutions to call the Assembly into session were introduced nearly three weeks ago when the Council was unable to take action on the Middle East crisis. They were shelved when Khrushchev proposed a five-power summit conference and the big powers maneuvered.

Khrushchev finally rejected the U. S.-British proposal for a summit meeting of the Security Council and demanded instead that the emergency Assembly session be held.

The American resolution would call on the Assembly for recommendations concerning Lebanon's May 22 complaint that the United Arab Republic was inciting, arming and reinforcing (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Nehru Threatens To Crack Down on Kerala

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru indicated today he would crack down on India's only Communist government, in Kerala state, if the Reds show signs of overwhelming their opponents.

Nehru replied to a barrage of questions at his monthly news conference with probably the strongest statement he has ever made against the 15-month-old Communist administration in Kerala state, a crowded province on India's southwest coast.

He said he was horrified by brutal political murders in Kerala.

Child Who Had Not Been Inoculated Is Polio Victim

A six-year-old Chandlers Valley girl has become Warren county's first polio case in nearly three years.

Debora Wachter, daughter of George and Lovetta Wachter, was admitted to Warren General Hospital at six p. m. Wednesday, suffering from paralysis of the left hand and arm. A hospital spokesman said there was also "some rigidity of the spine."

Little Debbie, the middle one of five children, had not had anti-polio shots, according to hospital officials who talked to the girl's mother.

The other children will be quarantined. Debora has been placed in isolation at the hospital. Her general condition is reported "good" and this morn-

U. S. Envoy Finally Sees Pres. Nasser

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
CAIRO (AP)—Showing no outward resentment at the initial snubbing he got from President Nasser, special U. S. envoy Robert Murphy said today their four-hour conference was "very friendly, very satisfactory."

Nasser kept the U. S. deputy undersecretary of state waiting until mid-evening Wednesday before he would receive him. But Murphy said they had a "very thorough, very friendly, very satisfactory conversation ranging over a large number of subjects."

President Eisenhower sent Murphy to the Middle East on the heels of the U. S. landing in Lebanon to help work out a political settlement among the Lebanese and to survey the U. S. position in the area. The American diplomat flew today (Turn to Page Fifteen)

Another Round of Price Increases By U.S. Steel Co.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Following the lead of a smaller steel firm for the third time in little more than a week, the U. S. Steel Corp. today boosted prices for plates, structural shapes and sheet piling an average of $4.25 a ton.

With just a few exceptions the new prices cover the last major items not touched in two previous rounds of the industry's piecemeal price hikes. Left unchanged to date are the prices of stainless steel and tinplate.

Bethlehem, second largest producer behind U. S. Steel, started the third round increases on Tuesday. Last week, Armco, seventh-ranked producer, kicked off the increases by posting changes on flat rolled products. Republic followed a few days later with hikes on rods, bars and wire.

The price boosts, variously estimated at $4.00 to $4.50 a ton, followed an automatic 9.1 cent hourly wage increase July 1 for steelworkers.

ing she was able to move fingers on her left hand all together (but not individually), something she was unable to do last night.

Exact type of polio which the girl contracted has not been determined.

Last reported case of polio in Warren County was in September of 1955. There were two cases that year.

Medical officials reassured their warning that the only known way to provide any measure of protection from the dread cripple is by inoculation with Salk anti-polio vaccine. The country has not had an epidemic since the drug became available. Polio season lasts through late summer months into fall.

Explorer Scouts Arrive Safely at Philmont Ranch

Ten Explorer Scouts from Warren area, Chief Complanter Council, arrived at Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, New Mexico, Wednesday after a 48-hour trip, leaving Warren early Monday morning. Paul Shogren, a leader of the group which traveled by bus.

In addition to Shogren, David Johan, Tonia; John Cox and Ronald Johnson, Ludlow; Tom Martin and Nicholas Petchel, Jr., Sheffield; Robert Hayes, Van Johnson, Robert Leiner and Addison Scholes Jr., Warren, made the trip.

"Expedition 805 D," as they will be known at Philmont, checked in at the ranch Wednesday morning where they were given a physical check. A group picture was later taken.

Dinner was served in the big central dining hall—where they probably be their last meal before cooking their own.

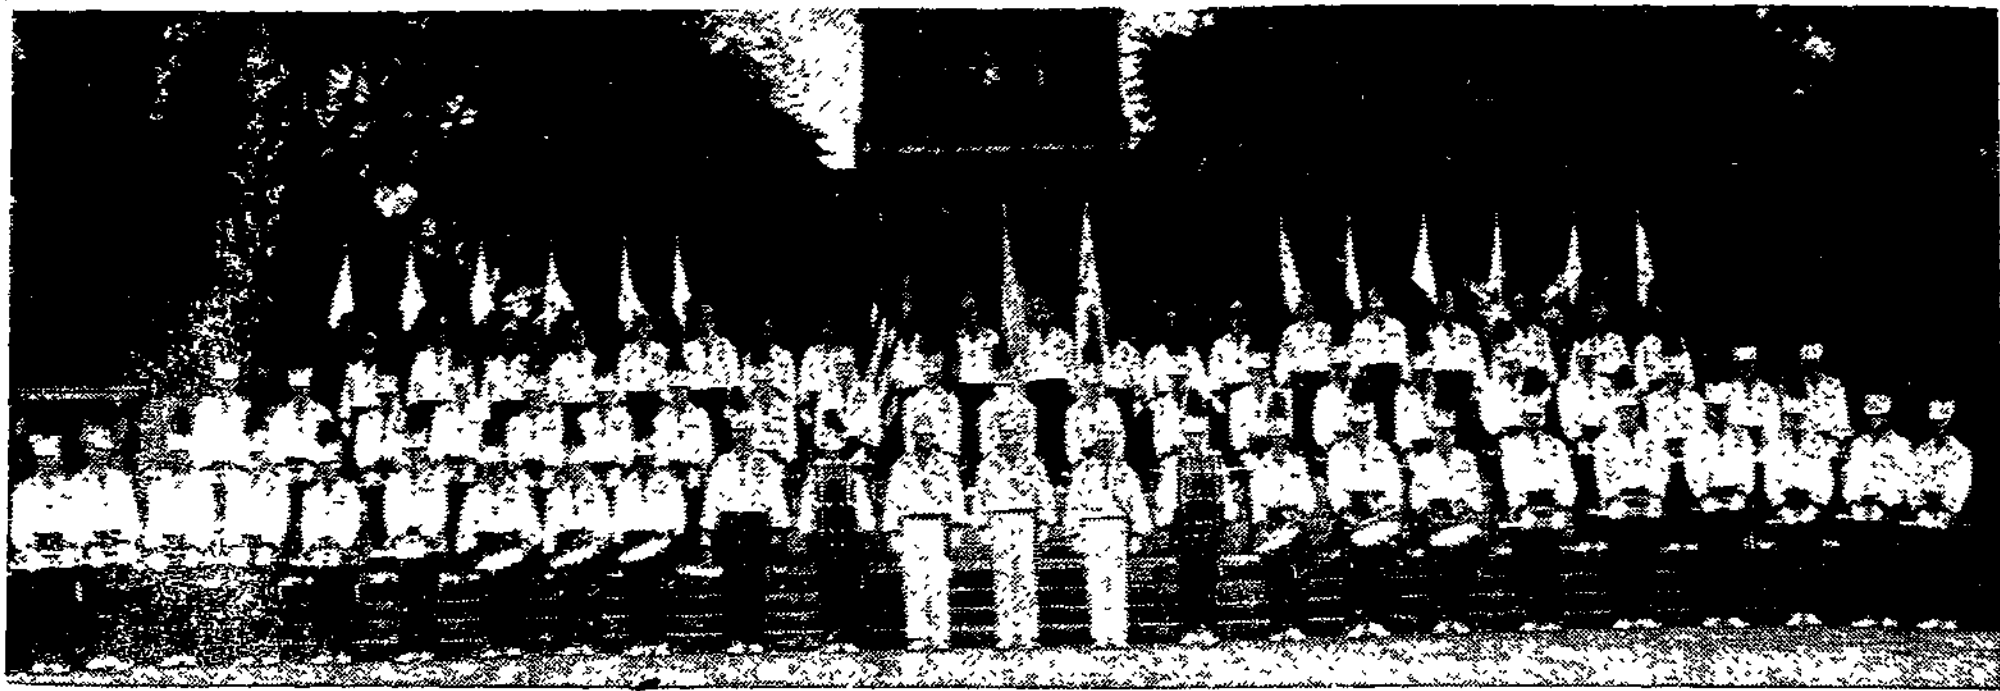

An opportunity will be accorded the Explorers as to where they want to go and what they want to do while on the trail at New Mexico Scout Ranch, a property which once belonged to K. Carson. Scouts have restored the old K. Carson trading post as a museum, and it stands today just as it did in the stirring days of the old west. For at least 10 of their 12 days, they will be on their own—cooking meals and making their own progress.

It will be recalled the group which traveled to Philmont in 1956 from Warren qualified for "We All Made It" award, by having none drop out on the trail. The present group intends to continue in this fine tradition.

The group is expected to arrive home at 7:57 p. m. August 19.

Area Rainfall in July Sets Record For the District

Corry Journal: Rainfall during the month of July may not have broken all records but it was nearly two inches more than had fallen during the same period last year, according to the weatherman.

The area was deluged with drenching rains 12 of the 31 days during the month. This resulted in soggy, sultry conditions.

The highest rainfall occurred on July 28 when 1.77 inches fell. The second highest amount of precipitation occurred on July 11, 1.42 inches.

The grand total for last month was 7.86 inches.

Nearly all types of conditions were experienced during the 31-day period. The high was 80 degrees on July 5th and the low was 47 on July 20th.

Bethlehem Steel And Crucible Both Post New Prices

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Crucible Steel Co. Wednesday increased prices on certain products in the third phase of a price pattern established last week.

Bethlehem, the nation's second largest producer, boosted by about 3 1/2 per cent the prices of hot rolled plates, structural shapes and sheet piling used in ships and railroad cars.

Crucible hiked prices on high speed and tool steels from 2 to 5 per cent.

The increases leave only tinplate and stainless steel prices unchanged in the big tonnage classes.

Armco Steel Corp. acted first in increasing prices of flat rolled products. Republic Steel Corp. set the pattern on bars, rods, wire and tubular products. In both cases, the rest of the industry followed suit.

The price of steel has been raised an estimated $4.50 a ton by the three selective boosts. The former composite price of steel products was about $155 a ton.

An automatic wage increase was granted steelworkers July 1 which, according to steel company officials, increased their payroll costs by about 20 cents an hour and added $4 to $11 to the cost of producing a ton of steel.

In Washington, Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hanson says he is giving very serious consideration to whether a grand jury should be set up to investigate the latest steel price increases.

Airport Kids Take Annual Track Meet

For the third consecutive year, Airport playground captured Junior Olympic Track Meet laurels on Beatty Field yesterday afternoon, pushing 57 runner-up, Crescent, into third place behind Memorial. According to playground director Fred Bell, points scored in the meet were as follows: Airport—164; Memorial—108; Crescent—64; Beech street—55; Beatty—42; Mulberry—8; Lacy—0. Today's activities includes Hobo show and Bathing Beauty contest.

WSH Farm Head Shows He Knows His "Stuff"

Burdette Weiler, State Hospital farm manager, showed he knew his "food stuff" when he, Mrs. Weiler and Phillip Knapp attended the annual Artificial Breeding Co-op field day at Clarion Wednesday.

Two Holstein cows were on exhibition, each one producing 50 pounds of milk daily. Penn State University sponsored a contest to show the value of good quality roughage compared with ordinary varieties.

One of the questions was how many pounds of grain were necessary to feed each cow to produce the 50 pounds of milk. Farm Manager Weiler's answer (7 pounds) was most nearly correct and he won first prize of $25.

Grey Knights Drum and Bugle Corps of Rochester, N. Y., one of the outstanding units entered in the mammoth and colorful show being presented at War Memorial Field Saturday evening, August 16th, was formed in 1947 and has been active in parade and competitive work ever since. The corps has represented Monroe County in nearly every New York State American Legion Convention and in 1957 competed in its first national contest in Atlantic City. On August 20 the Grey Knights will be in Chicago for the '58 Nationals in hopes of winning new laurels.

The corps is sponsored by the Grey Knights Post 952 of Rochester. The Grey Knights sponsored two contests in Rochester just seven days apart and the total attendance for the two was approximately 30,000. The first contest was on June 28 and was won by the national champs, the Skokie Indians with Norman Prince second. The second contest was won by Canada's Marching Ambassadors from Toronto with the Hilton Crusaders coming in second. The Hilton Crusaders will be one of the corps here in Warren on the 16th. With both these corps in the lineup for the evening's entertainment, it promises to be an exciting contest.

In addition to the Grey Knights and the Crusaders, the Geneva Appleknockers, the Brockport Batavia Cavaliers and the Niagara Memorial Militaires will be participating in the show. During the course of the evening there will be an exhibition by the Cornplanters. This will be the first year that the Cornplanters have put on an exhibition comparable to that of the competing corps. This is because the local Drum and Bugle Corps is now working on their new drill which will permit them to enter Class A contests. In the future the Cornplanters will be traveling to contests such as you will see here on the 16th. If the spirit of the corps remain as high as it has been all summer, there is nothing that will be able to stop them. The men in the Cornplanters certainly deserve a lot of credit for the fine job they have done.

A.P. Writer Declares Arabs Jolted by Mideast Events

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

For years the United States has been losing friends in the Arab east.

It still is.

Strangely enough, the shock of recent events may have given Americans a chance to turn the tide. These events made Arabs see their area as the possible cockpit of World War III. The thought jolted them.

Thus, in the proposed summit meeting and in its actions elsewhere, the United States may face a last chance to salvage something from the wreckage of its prestige among the Arabs.

Oil and strategic position are two key points underlying any consideration of this area.

Basically, the struggle hinges on vasa riches in oil.

And this is the crossroads of the world. The question that must worry Western leaders is this: Is the Soviet Union going to be able some day to squeeze the West's influence out of this area, and make Moscow master of the great sea route that connects east and west?

Those are the stakes.

One of the things that brought America to today's nadir of crisis was its failure to see, or at least comprehend, the implications of the movement toward independence that swept postwar across lands long under colonial rule.

This nationalist fever swept up the Arabs, too, but there is not a nationalism confined to the specific boundaries of one country. It is pan-Arabism, a feeling of oneness among people occupying a vast segment of the backward world, speaking Arabic, sharing the same racial memoirs, harboring bitterness against a history of exploitation.

The Russians did not really awaken to the possibilities of Stalin's death. Then Soviet policy set out to capitalize on the tide, as if heeding the Biblical prophecy of Jeremiah:

"Egypt riseth up like a flood and the waves thereof shall be moved as rivers."

The waves now threatening to engulf all the Holy Land are those of a pan-Arab nationalism churned by frustration into a thing called Nasserism. Gamal Abdel Nasser, President of the United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria, denies Nasserism exists. Whatever its name, the force came into being because of him. He may be the captive of its momentum.

Events of the past three months plummeted Western prestige in the Arab East. In many Arab eyes the twin intervention—in Jordan by the British and in Lebanon by the Americans—set back the clock and revived the dreaded bogey of imperialism and colonialism.

Many Arabs still want desperately to remain the West's friends, though they have fallen silent before the swelling tide of emotional and often grotesquely distorted racial pride. Before this summer's events there had been developing a cautious attitude of reasonableness—reasonableness, at any rate, by Arab standards, which are far different from the West's.

Much of that climate is gone now. The United States, as leader of the West, can claim as friends in the Arab East only those whose survival depends upon such friendship: Hussein, a lonely young monarch heavily guarded in Amman against his own people; Camille Chamoun, the tough, stubborn politician who has been occupying Lebanon's presidential palace; 750,000 frightened Christians in Lebanon; less than 500,000 scared Bedouins in Jordan.

How did American fortunes sink so low?

Palestine always has been basic to the Middle East problem. Up to February 1955, there was reason to hope the Arabs might turn inward to their own vast economic woes. Then began a nightmare for Western policy.

Nagged by hit-and-run commando attacks, Israel mounted an attack on the Egyptian-occupied Gaza Strip. That humiliated Nasser and endangered his political position. He sought arms. He could not meet U. S. terms. The Communist bloc was eager to help.

Even with these arms Nasser was in no position to upset Middle East peace. He still might have concentrated on attempts to cure Egypt's backwardness. However over-ambitious, Nasser's plan for a high Aswan Dam to increase Egypt's arable land might have kept him occupied at home.

But Washington pulled the rug from under Nasser, withdrawing an offer of help on the dam and handing him a gratuitous insult: Egypt wasn't up to such a program. The result was nationalization of the Suez Canal and the 1956 crisis.

The West, depending heavily on Arab oil, must choose: It can try to oppose nationalism and drive the Arabs into desperate measures such as slain Nuri Said meant when he talked of "a compulsion to flirt with suicide." This can mean unending Arab turmoil and even eventual Soviet sway.

Or the United States can encourage a genuine nationalism and try to lead it into constructive channels. To those who have had long Middle East experience, this course offers a chance to avert disaster.

Decrease Shown In Index Prices On Farm Produce

HARRISBURG (AP)—A one-point decrease in the index of prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for all their products occurred between June 15 and July 15, the State Agricultural Department reported today.

A Pennsylvania Crop Reporting Service survey showed, however, that the index was eight points above the corresponding period of last year. While the index for livestock and livestock products rose three points, the crop index dipped 12 points from the previous month.

Lower prices for wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye, soybeans and hay were responsible for the crop index drop, reflecting large supplies of new crop grains. On the other hand, Pennsylvania farmers received higher prices for milk, cows, eggs and, wholesale milk.

The survey also showed the dairy products index advanced nine points from mid-June to mid-July. The average price received by farmers for whole-sale milk was $4.60 per hundred pounds, 25 cents above the mid-June figure but five cents under July 1957.

DOLLAR DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN!

There are plenty of reminders in this issue of the Times-Mirror that Dollar Days are here again, presenting wondrous opportunities for area shoppers to buy and save in Warren Friday and Saturday of this week.

An article elsewhere reminds that in addition to offering sales items to customers tomorrow and Saturday the seventy participating stores are also giving shoppers a chance to win a first prize valued at $500—consisting of a grand award of a 1952 Pontiac sedan in good running condition the inside loaded with groceries and fifty gallons of Keystone gasoline as an added bonus.

The carload of groceries is one of ten valuable prizes being awarded, including a Pop-up toaster, Brazier Grill, Dinner for Four, two $10 gift certificates, Schaeffer Snorkel Pen, Bird Cage Planter, Arpege Cologne and Perfume, $7.50 Gift Certificate and two months free soft water service.

And finally, to be eligible, all shoppers are asked to do is register in any of the stores that will be displaying the Dollar Day Banners. Registration slips will be picked up next week and a drawing arranged to determine the winners.

Don't fail to study the advertisements carrying money-saving bargains in this issue before starting out on your Dollar Day Shopping expedition tomorrow. It'll be well worth your while!

POLIO-SHOT REMINDER

Discovery that a six-year-old Chandlers Valley child, who has never received Salk anti-polio shots, is a patient in Warren General Hospital being treated for paralytic polio, with complete paralysis of the left arm, should spur a rush to secure such protection for their children by parents who have too long neglected this important service to their offspring. Don't delay! Consult your family physician, or nearest doctor. The future of your child is at stake!

A survey just taken show that most drinkers think their own skills at the wheel are superior. The safety warnings are for the "other guy," in their minds. How can we promote safety by showing them they're the other guy to the other guy?

East German Communists are complaining about their young folks reading too many western stories. Their writers are being urged to write socialist love stories to supplant the westerns. They want to switch the kids from a diet of corn to a diet of mush.

Marlow Looks At TODAY'S NEWS

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Does the Eisenhower administration really have a broad Middle East program to offer the United Nations General Assembly or is it just playing by ear?

That becomes a primary question now that the United States and the Soviet Union—since the idea of a special summit meeting apparently has been killed—prepare to carry their Middle East dispute into the Assembly, perhaps next week.

A week ago—when a summit meeting still seemed a possibility—Secretary of State Dulles talked in very narrow terms of what this country would propose. He got some bad reaction in the press. Since then administration people have been busy giving the impression it would come up with a broad program.

Wednesday in U.N. headquarters in New York people who wanted to be identified only as informants told an Associated Press reporter this country will offer the assembly a broad stabilization program for the Middle East.

They said the administration wants to deal with at least three major problems there: Arab nationalism, economic development and the hundreds of thousands of Arab refugees dispossessed by the Arab-Israeli war of 1948.

But when the reporter sought to pin down his informants—for instance, by asking specifically what would be proposed for the refugees—he was told the details had not been worked out.

Yet, since those refugees have been a blistering sore in the Middle East for 10 years, it might seem Dulles' State Department planners by this time would be pretty clear on what should be done.

Only a week ago at his news conference Dulles was not talking in terms of a broad program at all. Just the opposite. That was when there was still talk of a summit meeting.

He outlined this country's two main goals at such a meeting: to defend this country against Soviet charges of aggression and to pin indirect aggression of the Soviets.

Until these points were disposed of, he said, "we do not have an environment or a condition which permits us to proceed usefully" with other problems.

He added: "There is no use getting into the details of economic projects and the like if the (Middle East) governments are going to live under a constant threat of indirect aggression, assassination and the like."

Two days later—Aug. 2—the Washington Post accused him of a narrow view in an editorial called "The Same Old Rut." It said Dulles was in a rut and added: "Certainly it is right for this country to seek means of dealing with the indirect aggression which

Business Recovery Follows Previously Trodden Path

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—News from abroad may all be bad or worse but here at home it's better. Signs are increasing that the recession of 1958 is beginning to level off after eight months of going down hill after August, 1957. The last two months show steady improvement.

In this respect, nearly all the business chart curves are following the patterns of the two recessions which began in November, 1948, and July, 1953. The U.S. economy declined for eight months from those starting dates, then began to rise.

Principal exception to this pattern is the cost of living index. Consumer prices dropped 2 per cent in 15 months from November, 1948, then began to climb. The cost of living showed less than 1 per cent change in 1953-4.

BUT CONSUMER PRICES have risen nearly 3 per cent—from 121 to 123.7 on the index—during 10 months of the 1957-58 dip. In nearly all other respects, this current bad time is acting as what the economists called a "classical" recession should.

This is shown graphically by a series of charts which Committee for Economic Development has been keeping.

CED economists took business conditions at the start of each of the three post-World War II recessions as an index number of 100. Then it charted their progress.

The resulting curves are surprisingly parallel, but not exactly so. TAKE THE FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD index of industrial production. In all three post-war declines, there have been drops in the index of from 10 to 13 per cent for eight months, then a rise. Take gross national product. All three recessions showed declines the first two quarters. In the earlier recessions, the GNP leveled off for two more quarters before it began to rise.

On that pattern, business this time won't get any worse, but it won't get really good before the end of the year.

Personal income in the two previous recessions declined for 11 months before it began to rise. This time personal income was down for only six months.

Unemployment as a per cent of the labor force—adjusted for seasonal variations—has shown an increase for six months before it began to drop in the last two months. The unadjusted index shows an increase from May to June. But it was no higher in June—7.7 per cent—than in February and March.

In the 1948-49 recession there was an increase in the unemployment rate for a full year, due to major strikes in the last few months. In 1953-54 there were 14 months of rising unemployment before improvement began. On this score, also, the current recession is shorter and recovery is faster.

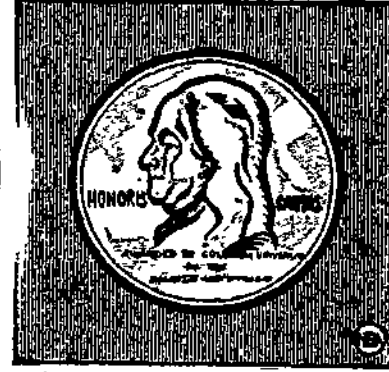

THE INDEX ON NEW ORDERS in manufacturing is following roughly the same pattern this year that it followed in the two earlier recessions. The graph shows six months of decline followed by four months' leveling off before recovery.

Retail sales and new housing starts are both showing slower recovery than they did in the previous recessions.

The dip in retail sales has been of greater volume nationally—though not in every locality—for the past 10 months than it was in 1948-9 and 1953-4.

Housing starts began to pick up after five months in the two previous recessions. The explanation is that there were greater housing shortages and greater demand than now. This time there were shortages for months before demand began to pick up.

Matter of FACT

In the will of the late newspaper publisher, Joseph Pulitzer, a fund was established for a gold medal to be awarded annually for the most disinterested and worthy public service by any United States newspaper, the famed Pulitzer Prize. Pulitzer, who was born in Budapest, Hungary, in 1847, came to the U.S. in 1864 and joined the Union army. Later he purchased newspapers in St. Louis and New York.

"Most women want everyone to believe they know all there is to know about table serving and setting. But sometimes they don't," says a release from Hal Fox, assistant Extension editor, Pennsylvania State University. He says that's why home economics specialists at the University have written a refresher course in table serving and etiquette called "Table Service". The course has proven particularly valuable for reference, when, as the specialists say, you're just not sure of yourself. Lessons in the correspondence course include charts and details for serving meals in the popular buffet style. Then there's information on stain removal, selection and care of table linens, silver, glass and china. The lessons in etiquette have often proven a painless way to teach children good eating habits. Just let them study etiquette lesson themselves. All five lessons of the popular "Table Service" correspondence course will be sent to anyone for $1.25. The charge is made to cover cost of mailing, expert correction and grading of lessons, and expense of preparation by specialists. Make check or money order payable to The Pennsylvania State University, and send it to Farm Study Courses, Agricultural Education Building, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa. A free bulletin describing all of the 64 agricultural and home economics correspondence courses will be sent if requested.

NEW YORK (AP)—The businessman's problem today is how big a price boost would his customers and competitors let him get away with if he should pass along his mounting costs in higher price tags. Either could upset the cart.

And although the recession is widely held to be dead, many economists haven't signed the death certificate yet.

For the manufacturer and the merchant the threat of more inflation comes from two sources: 1. The monetary inflation that many see ahead. 2. The wage-price spiral. This seems to have gotten a new boost from the wage and price hikes in the basic metals industries.

Management states its case for future price increases on its products this way: Since the war, wage scales have risen an average of 5 to 6 per cent a year, while productivity—the amount of goods one worker turns out in an hour—has risen only 2 to 3 per cent a year. Management says this difference means that the over-all cost of producing industrial materials or finished goods has gone up steadily.

Add to this greater costs of transportation, distribution and marketing of goods and you have the squeeze on profits that builds up great pressure under prices.

But even under the lash of any further monetary inflation, competition will still have a say in how much any one company can raise prices.

The consumer can be mighty fickle, too. He may accept any further price boosts with no more than a grumble or two—while plotting how he may raise his own take. Or he may tighten up on his spending and give industry a real headache.

Business counts on higher total incomes ahead to soften up the consumer. Higher wage scales, larger farm incomes, the recent boost in government paychecks should help. And each year there are more people to want things—if they're able to buy.

Businessmen could be tempted to raise prices because of stockholder grumbling. Earnings have been taking a beating. In some cases big name companies haven't earned as much per share as the dividends they paid out. There'll be an urge to recoup these losses by raising prices if they can.

In some cases now there'll be an incentive to beat expected higher prices; in others the desire to make sure any worsening of world tension wouldn't find their plants or stores short of supplies.

If everyone starts spending again, this could hasten the day when industry revives its expansion program and gives recovery its final booster shot. For inflation tends to feed on itself. Bigger sales totals arouse enthusiasm.

For weeks the stock market has felt that more inflation is on the way and that business and consumers will react in the usual fashion and start a new boom.

If they do, then hold your hats. Off we go again.

Next: The government's role in inflation.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.—Romans 8:37.

God be thanked for that good and perfect gift, the gift unspokeable; His life, His love, His very self in Jesus Christ.

Dunn Pupils Recall Their School Days With 47th Annual Gathering

During the afternoon, others arrived to bring the total to 30 and pictures were taken by Dorothy Lytton and Daisy Campbell. When the roll call was given by the president, there were 15 pupils responding.

All former officers were re-elected: President, Roy Parker; vice president, Gela Carlson; treasurer, Harry Johnson; and secretary, Daisy Campbell.

It was with regret four names were placed on the list of deceased: Florence Brydon, Laura Scranton, Parney Upton and Homer Mead.

Corydon School Reunion Provides Opportunity To Renew Friendships

CORYDON — On Sunday, August 3, the local fire hall was the scene of the 17th annual gathering of the Corydon School, when some 80 persons gathered to meet former classmates and renew friendships of long standing, as well as to enjoy a fine dinner served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

Immediately following the serving, the business meeting was called to order by Robert J. Clawson, reunion president, who read numerous letters of regret from members unable to be present, but expressing best wishes for a happy get-together.

In addition to minutes of the 1957 reunion, read by Secretary Mayme Schrader, there was reelection of all present officers to serve for another two-year period.

Called upon to speak were Emory Platt, J. K. Crooks, Webb Day, Mrs. Mary Kirwin, Mayme Marsh, Mrs. Ruth Funk, Tressa Marsh and Hazel McNamara.

By unanimous vote, it was decided to hold the '59 reunion at the same place on the first Sunday in August, with the Fire Auxiliary serving the dinner.

The Mature Parent

Parent's 'Reasoning' Only Creates Anxiety in Child

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Charles Dickens' Mr. Dombey is a good example of what we mean by a stern Victorian parent.

He was cold, unbending, a commander of obedience—and made no pretense whatever that he wanted anything from his daughter Florence but fear.

But she was not an anxious girl. From early childhood she accepted her fear of him as a fact of her life, and so was able to withdraw dependence on him and trust her own ability to choose devoted friends and a good husband.

Today, unlike Mr. Dombey, we become very upset at the possibility that a child fears us.

If, in a temper, we hit Jimmy for tracking mud on our just-mopped linoleum, we feel obliged to seek out our frightened little boy and turn him into an "understanding" one.

We explain how hard we have to work to keep the house clean and how discouraging it is to have a child who doesn't consider other people. We do everything we can to make our unreasoning attack on Jimmy appear reasonable to him, until he becomes uncertain of his right to fear us as an occasionally unreasonable person.

This modern eagerness to present ourselves to children as perpetually loving, reasonable people, makes for anxiety in them.

If Jimmy is deprived of his awareness that he fears the adult who has flown off the handle and hurt him, he is also deprived of trust in what his stinging cheek is telling him. His confidence in what his own senses tell him is changed to confidence in what we tell him.

In other situations which require him to know what his own senses tell him, he may not register that they're telling him he is afraid. Instead he will experience anxiety's vague and unfocused apprehensiveness.

When we ask him to go on an errand, he won't say, "I can't because I'm scared of that big kid down the street." He'll just find nervous excuses to avoid the errand.

It's good for us to worship the ideal of discipline by love alone. To be able to admit that we have fallen short of it is even better.

Otherwise we'll try to manipulate a scared child out of his fear of us because we're ashamed of our un-ideal behavior. And do more damage than honestly fearsome Mr. Dombey could possibly do.

A BARGAIN IS NOT ALWAYS... A BARGAIN

One of the strongest selling points we have as a Montgomery Ward Co. salesman is built into every product. It's the Ward name and with it, the Ward guarantee.

All Ward appliances carry a double guarantee... the guarantee on the product itself, and the Ward 86-year old guarantee of complete customer satisfaction or money refunded.

In many towns, residents have learned to their sorrow, that businesses which have "folded" don't honor guarantees no matter what they promised...at the time of the sale. Many persons have sought service contracts, the cost of which was added to what was initially owing the finance company in the purchasing price. Now they need service and have discovered that if they want to use their appliance they will have to pay a service man, and pay the finance company for the cost of the contract with the defunct store. And the customer doesn't have a chance of getting anything back on the defaulted contract. The store doesn't care about the customer's plight and the finance company wants its money with interest.

The same sad situation comes to light when victims of fly-by-night companies offer ten or twenty-year guarantees and then default on their guarantees.

No matter what the pretty paper says... A GUARANTEE IS STILL ONLY AS GOOD AS THE WORD OF THE PARTY WHO GAVE IT.

Ward's guarantee has been good for 86 years...and it is probable that Wards will be in business for many, many more years. Most Ward customers have been our customers for many years. They keep coming back because they're pleased with Ward's service, guarantee and reputation.

We sell our product keeping in mind you. We offer something better than the average store. And clinch our sales story by reminding our customer "that a bargain is a bargain" when you get it at Wards.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM MATTHEWS

Nelda Norbeck, Sugar Grove, RD 2, became the bride of William Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Matthews of Warren RD 2, in a lovely summer wedding in Chandeliers Valley Evangelical United Brethren church August 2.

Officiating before an altar decorated with white gladioli, the Rev. Floyd Martin performed the double ring ceremony at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Ludwick, church organist, accompanied Charles Gage in his solos, "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted by her uncle, Nicholas Brunner of Pittsburgh, the bride was gown in street length white lace over taffeta, with nylon tulle trim. Her fingertip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a queen's crown of seed pearls and sequins, her mitts were fashioned of lace to match her gown, and her bouquet was of red roses.

Mrs. Paul Cracker, Jamestown, was matron of honor, choosing a street length model of blue lace over taffeta and carrying a bouquet which combined red and white roses.

Donald D. Swanson served Mr. Matthews as best man.

The bride's mother was dressed in gray, with white trim and accessories: the bridegroom's mother chose blue nylon and beige accessories. Each had a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Thirty-five guests attended the reception which followed immediately. Using a color scheme of pink and white, the bride's table was centered with

Newlyweds Are Locally Employed

Corry Presbyterian church was the scene, at 8:00 p. m. August 2, of a double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Barbara Jane Mulvin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Mulvin of that city, and Gary Paul Swanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Algot Swanson of Ludlow.

The Rev. Paul Bauer officiated; Mrs. Bauer, organist, played traditional wedding music.

Attending the bride were her sister, Sylvia Mulvin, as bridesmaid; Mrs. Marcia Jackson, Corry, as matron of honor. They wore ballroom length gowns of ice blue and coral lace, respectively, complemented with white picture hats. Miss Mulvin carried pink roses; Mrs. Jackson yellow roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white nylon lace, also ballroom length, with a crown of sequins holding her shoulder length veil. The small white Bible she carried was topped with an arrangement of yellow roses.

Mrs. Mulvin chose salmon pink brocade, white accessories and yellow rose corsage; Mrs. Swanson's navy and white ensemble was accented with pink roses.

A reception for 100 guests was held at Corry Moose Temple, where aides included Mrs. Clarence Farrington, Mrs. Betty Bailey and Mrs. Clair Mulvin.

Following a wedding trip, the newlyweds will reside in Ludlow. Mrs. Swanson is graduate of Corry High School and is employed by New Process Company in Warren. Mr. Swanson, Kane High alumnus, served three years with the Air Force and is employed by the same local firm.

Little Plaids for the Small Fry

They Follow Adult Styles —with Whimsey

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Plaids will march down the road to the little red schoolhouse in great numbers this fall.

For the small fry, they're small plaids, scaled down to a miniature size and done in the right proportion for a tot.

In general, these small fashions follow adult styles but they're handled with a feeling of fun. There's nothing of the serious Victorian miss looking exactly like mama in these new clothes.

Low belts, dropped waistlines and brief pleated skirts are naturals for children. They have the figures for them. The trapeze is right for children, too, when it's properly lined to keep its shape.

The straight and unfitted dress with pleats that stay in is one that looks smart and will get mom's vote since it takes relatively little care to keep it spruce. We show two examples here.

Dress with plaid top and permanently-pleated skirt (left) is in orlon and wool jersey. It's done in warm tones of brown, has narrow patent leather belt at low waistline. Deep white cuffs have let buttons.

The last word in easy care is this plaid dress (right) in royal blue dacron and rayon. It can go through a full cycle of the automatic home washer, then be dried at moderate temperatures, stay crisp and flat.

has been and is a very real threat in the Near East. But to make this the be-all and end-all... as Mr. Dulles seems to want, would be to get nowhere."

A few hours after the editorial appeared, the administration changed its line. Acting anonymously, a high official called in newsmen and frankly said he wanted to offset an impression the administration was bankrupt of ideas.

He told newsmen Eisenhower would submit to any U.N. summit meeting a series of concrete proposals for peace in the Middle East. So what the informants told the AP man yesterday at the U.N. was following the line laid down by the high official last Saturday. Meanwhile, Dulles went to Brazil. It remains to be seen what he'll have to say now when he returns.

At his own news conference Eisenhower was asked if, with or without a summit meeting, his administration planned to come up with an "integrated over-all program of operation in the Middle East?"

He replied vaguely, saying, "Well, now, I am not going to put it in those broad and quite such resounding terms. We certainly know what we want to do, and we are prepared to, as we agree with each of the countries, if we can, to help wherever we can."

This might seem to mean he was thinking of working out arrangements with individual countries separately. Later in his conference he talked of working through the U.N. but he was never specific on what he had in mind.

Are Clothes Designers in Business to Sell—Or What?

Memo to the American fashion industry: A woman will pound the pavement only so long looking for a few additions to her wardrobe in which she feels comfortable and happy. Then she gives up and decides to make do with what she has hanging in the closet.

A lot of middle-aged and older women are in that unhappy state right now. They need clothes, but they can't find anything to fit their needs.

Today's crazy styles are fine for the slim young things who look good in anything. They're all right for the young woman who isn't afraid of looking silly—so long as she knows she is in style.

But for the mature woman who expects a dress to flatter her figure, give her freedom of movement and the comfortable feeling that she is dressed to suit her age—the dress designers at the moment offer nothing.

And that is pretty silly of the dress designers. For it is the mature woman who is willing to pay the price for a really flattering dress.

It is the mature woman who really needs clothes that "do something" for her morale. It is the mature woman who is a cagey, careful shopper who knows what she wants and isn't easily persuaded to take something else.

And this is the woman the designers have completely overlooked in their rush to see who can turn out the most outlandish, the most "amusing," the most difficult-to-wear designs.

The other day I overheard two tired matrons, talking as they waited for a department store elevator. Said one, "I've looked at every store in town and I can't find a single dress I can wear. I guess I'll have to buy some material and get a dressmaker to make me a few things."

Said the other, "The more I look at the new clothes, the better the clothes hanging in my closet look to me. I guess I'll just short on the hems on the dresses I have and sit it out until I can find something becoming."

If the designers don't wake up and start designing clothes a mature woman can wear happily and comfortably they are going to find that more and more women are buying fewer and fewer clothes.

Committees Enthusiastic About Prospects for Fall Flower Show

Circle September 5 on your calendar as a real Red Letter Event, occasion of the annual Woman's Club Flower Show.

That is the well-considered advice of the committee handling arrangements, with the added note that show officials are sure all of last year's participants will be back with bigger and better flower and vegetable entries.

An oft-repeated remark at last year's show was "Gee, I wish I had brought some of my flowers—this is really great." And, the Woman's Club is working in conjunction with Warren Garden Club to lure all amateur gardeners to the show in September.

There will be no entry nor admission fees. The prizes are purely honorary, but what a thrill it is to see one's zinnias or delphinium displayed with that coveted blue ribbon. There are classes for practically every kind of flower or vegetable.

Annual flowers include asters, marigolds, petunias, zinnias, snapdragons, spiderplant, ageratum, bachelor buttons, calendulas, nasturtiums, pansies, scabiosa, verbena, salpiglossis.

Perennials listed are chrysanthemums, delphinium, phlox, dahlias, roses, gladioli. Potted plants include cactus, coleus, fuchsia, geranium, African violets, begonias.

Vegetables and fruits include apples, beets, cabbage, carrots, corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, peaches, pears, peas, peppers, plums, potatoes, pumpkin, string beans, squash, tomatoes, turnips.

The staging committee, under Mrs. Melvin Keller, is planning a new arrangement of the auditorium so that both specimens and arrangements will be shown to better advantage.

The arrangement classifications fall into a variety of groups. The theme for mantle and table settings will be Fall Hospitality. More complete explanations of these classes will be published in a later edition of the Times-Mirror.

Weekly Business Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores offer a variety of special attractions this weekend while they hopefully await a break in the wholesale meat market.

Some are trying to tempt the budget-conscious housewife with chuck roast or steak, others offer round roast or steak. The special prices are attractive by current standards, but no bargain judged by the standards of a few short years ago.

Frying and roasting chickens, hams and turkeys also are the weekly special in a few stores. In areas where the customers have a taste for sea food, flounder, swordfish, scallops, shrimp, smelts and lobster tails are given special billing.

The summer seems to bring out a wide assortment of featured items such as Canadian bacon, game hens, spare ribs, pork sausage roll, smoked steer tongue and frankfurters.

Egg prices advanced 1 to 4 cents a dozen in some sections, mostly due to the season.

Fruits and vegetables, aided by near-perfect growing weather in most states, continue to pour to market.

Outstanding buys this week are cabbage, sweet corn, onions, potatoes, eggplant, lettuce and tomatoes.

Squash is a bit higher, but still rates as a good buy. So do snap beans, lima beans, carrots, celery, endive, escarole and peppers.

Watermelons again are the best buy among fruits, although cantaloupes are much lower. Honeydew melons are up a bit, but still a good buy. Blueberries are attractively priced. Peaches, still are a good buy.

CLARENDON

CLARENDON—Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Campbell have been spending several days with their son, Earl, and family in Rochester, N. Y.

Mrs. Gilbert Brown, Cleveland, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Knight, the latter accompanying her home for a few days' visit.

R. O. McBride has returned to Conneville after spending the weekend with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bauer are enjoying a vacation trip to Atlantic City and other eastern and northern points.

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Lobdell and children, spending their vacation trip at a cottage on Chautauqua Lake, were joined there Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Youngquist and sons David and Denny, with Mr. and Mrs. Don Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Jicha, Sr., of Pittsburgh, are spending some time visiting their son, the Rev. Hubert Jicha, Jr., and family.

CLARENDON—A reception, in the form of a tureen dinner, was held in the Methodist church to welcome back the Rev. Hubert Jicha and family for the coming year. Serving as committee were Mrs. George Morrison, Mrs. Kenneth Knight, Mrs. Florence Bemis, Mrs. Myron Bullock, Mrs. Wayne Kinch, and Mrs. Fred Bauer.

Following the evening meal, a welcoming address was given by Kenneth Knight; devotions were conducted by Mrs. Madge Morrison; and games were conducted by Linda Sleeman. There were 43 persons present to enjoy the very pleasant evening.

Conrad King of Ashville, N. Y., a lay leader in the Jamestown District, will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church Sunday in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Hubert Jicha, Jr., who is at Wesley Woods.

CLARENDON—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Knight and sons moved to Clymer, N. Y., last Saturday to attend the wedding of Paul Palmer and Betty Stewart. The ceremony took place in the Maika Corners EUB church.

Mrs. Bessie Cooper, Baltimore, Md., has been spending some time with relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Anderson have arrived home after vacationing with their daughter, Mary Lou Trusso, and husband in California.

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"If you have a really good television show, you'll get an audience," says Andy Williams.

"It doesn't matter what night your show is, or what time or what network or whether you form your own network."

Well, Williams has a good show as the summer replacement for Pat Boone and the mail indicates he's attracting a large audience of all ages.

The Williams Show has a relatively low budget. It doesn't operate on the theory that it needs big name guest stars to hold its audience. In Williams' words, "We mainly just try to do good songs, standard songs that people enjoy."

Williams has the low-keyed manner of Perry Como and he doesn't dish the hokum some performers seem to think is the substance of an interview.

Example: You grow mighty weary of hearing performers complain about the weekly grind of a TV show. But Williams is refreshingly calm.

"I'm lazy, and you don't have to work too hard in television. You have to think hard. That is, you must concentrate on absolute sincerity when you're singing a song. Because that close-up camera never lies. The television audience is smart. It knows immediately whether you believe in what you're doing or whether you're faking it — and when you fake you're dead."

The solution for an honest performer, Williams believes, is the Perry Como solution, sing only songs in which you believe.

About five years ago a quartet Williams was singing in broke up and he went it alone. He hit with recordings and then became a featured singer for 2 1/2 years with Steve Allen.

"In a television show," says Williams, "you seldom know how well it's going. You're working to an inanimate thing. Cameras and directors do half the work for you. Sometimes the less you do the better. Sometimes it seems to me I'm just standing there doing nothing. Then I see the kinescope afterwards and realize a lot has been happening. Other people have been working for me."

A. P. DEATH RECORD

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Mrs. Ivan Lee Holt, wife of the retired Methodist bishop of Missouri, died Wednesday. She and the bishop left St. Louis on a European tour last month. She was the former Mrs. H. A. Carithers of Winder, Ga., a widow, who married Bishop Holt, a widower, in 1950.

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Paul L. Boynton, 60, president of Stephen F. Austin State College since 1942, died Wednesday of a heart attack. He formerly was head of the psychology department at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., and a professor at the University of Kentucky. He was born in Belton, Tex.

Continued Rain And Wet Weather Delaying Crops

HARRISBURG (AP)—Continued rain and wet weather has delayed the harvest of most grain crops and caused some damage, but vegetable and fruit crops were reported in good shape.

The State Agriculture Department reported in its weekly crop summary Tuesday that wet, humid weather kept farmers from making second cuttings of hay.

Hay generally has been reduced in quality by rains over the past month, the department said, and the grain harvest is late in all sections.

The department's crop report for the week ended Monday said:

"Rainfall for the week exceeded two inches in much of the west and central sections of the state as showers and thunderstorms occurred almost daily in all areas except the northeast where rains were confined to the first half of the week.

"Heads of wheat not harvested in some localities are sprouting while heads are dropping from unharvested barley in some northern counties. Potatoes in scattered sections are starting to rot in the ground because of too much moisture.

"Tassels and silk are showing on field corn in the southern and central counties. Early sweet corn is moving to fresh markets.

"The volume of early peaches going to markets is increasing and good quantities are expected when 'Pennsylvania peach-time' is observed Aug. 14-23."

Steelers Will Play Scrimmage Game Tonight

CALIFORNIA, Pa. (AP)—Buddy Parker, a National League coach who ranks with baseball's Frank Lane as a trader, appears satisfied with his Pittsburgh Steelers—at least for today.

"I'm very pleased with our progress so far," said the big Texan at the Steelers' training camp in this southwestern Pennsylvania town.

"Besides," he added with a chuckle, "we don't have many draft picks left."

Parker, of course, was referring to the head-spinning number of trades he made, mostly with future draft choices, when he took over the head coaching job in the middle of the training season last year.

Most of his moves paid off notably trades for Earl Morrill and Billy Wells. Morrill became the No. 1 quarterback and Wells the top ground-gainer.

This year Parker gave an undisclosed draft choice for Tank Younger, a 30-year-old veteran of nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams.

Younger may fill the club's need for an experienced full-back, but Parker is also high on rookies Larry Krutko of West Virginia and Ed Sears of Florida.

Quarterback presents no problem. With only three in camp, Parker is just sitting back waiting for the best of three experienced ball handlers to take charge.

"Dawson Len has looked great out there," Parker said with obvious relish. "And let me tell you something, he's going to be a tough man to beat."

Dawson, the Steelers' No. 1 draft choice in 1957, and Jack Kemp saw only limited action last year as Morrill directed the club.

Parker said the team's greatest needs are for an offensive tackle and a good pass receiver to go with Jack McLaughlin who snared 46 aerials for 630 yards last season.

There seems little chance any rookie will break into the Steelers' defensive line, rated near the top the past several years.

The club has a fine crop of rookies but Parker is withholding judgment on many of them until after a heavy scrimmage scheduled Thursday.

Parker would make no predictions but said he is optimistic the club will better its 6-6 record and third place finish in the NFL's Eastern Division last year.

A Children's Parade, postponed from Thursday evening because of the rain, preceded the Firemen's Parade and all participants were presented a treat.

On Friday evening, a midge baseball game was played between Sugar Grove Merchants and Lander Auxiliary, the latter team winning 24-13.

State Hospital Newswriting Classes Highly Commended

By BOB HOLTON
HARRISBURG (AP) — The woman described her experience in 18 dramatic words:
"A past that is dead and a future that has not yet drawn the first breath of life."
She is a patient at a state mental hospital and she was writing about her feelings from the time she first became ill to the day she was declared on the road to recovery.
Her cryptic account of hospital life appeared in one of the periodic newspapers and leaflets published by patients in Pennsylvania's 17 mental institutions.
"There is no getting away frightening and unfriendly." Expressions of hope and confidence are numerous:

"To me, our hospital unit means the bridge and we hope also to make it the gateway. It is a bridge between the past and the future. The past that is gone and the future that is not yet here."
The publications are sprinkled with humor and sage bits of advice:
"Authority makes some people grow while it makes others swell."
"Men are the only people on earth who think they have more sense than women."
Harry Shapiro, public welfare secretary, backs the program 100 per cent.
"This program, which has been going on for some time under the supervision of the individual hospital staffs, should be continued and expanded," Shapiro said. "It is of great value in our rehabilitation work."

Free Horse Show for the Children Planned Sunday

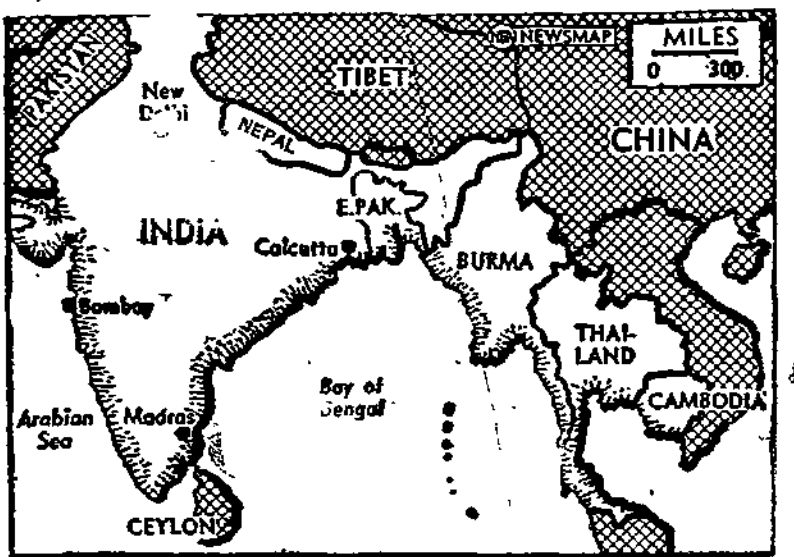

Y-Bar-U Saddle Club is presenting its first Children's Horse Show this Sunday beginning at 1 p. m. on the new club grounds, one-half mile this side of Scandia on the left.
Rain date is August 17th. If the show is a success, the club plans to make it an annual affair.
Admission to the show is free, though there will be a token 25-cent entrance fee for each class. Ribbons will be awarded and $5 high point money.
General chairman Adam Beltz has announced this schedule: grand entry, boot race, key hole race, diaper race, pole bending, egg carrying contest, performance class, donut eating, child-parent event, sack roping, milk race, ring spearing and jumping.
Others on the committee are Ronald Carlson, Charles Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. "Bud" Sherman, Virginia Hohman, Mrs. Duane Kittner.

Separate Inspection Stations for Trailers

HARRISBURG (AP) — A new state program providing separate inspection stations for house trailers was underway today with the start of the current semi-annual inspection period for commercial vehicles.

Mothers Defend Neighbor Banned As Scoutmaster

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — A group of Boy Scouts and their mothers spoke up today in defense of Scoutmaster William N. Smith, banned by the Boy Scout organization.
Commented Lee Brown, blind 11 year old:
"I am proud to be a scout, and it was only through the efforts of Mr. Smith that I am."
Lee said the stocky, muscular ex-infantry sergeant took him into Troop 27 after other troops had turned him down.
"He's a great guy and I love to be with him and the troop," Lee said. "He even ordered some scout books in braille for me out of his own pocket."
Smith, a 35-year-old laundry operator, was banned for allegedly conducting camping trips and hikes without proper authorization and disregarding the boys' safety and health.
The World War II veteran, married and the father of a 10-year-old, denied the charges. He said each boy was given a stiffer-than-normal test and only the successful scouts were eligible to go. The trips included a four-day, 200 mile canoe

PLAGUE HITS ASIA—World health authorities are keeping anxious eyes on Asia where a cholera outbreak is described as "the most serious in years." So far this year, in the countries shown in white on Newsmag, there have been 48,729 cholera cases, with 20,687 deaths from the dread disease. The World Health Organization (WHO) has sent 25,000 doses of cholera vaccine to Nepal alone, where the plague has broken out for the first time since the beginning of the century.

trip on the Connecticut River and a trip to Mt. Washington in New Hampshire in subzero weather.
"God forbid," Smith said, "but if these boys ever have to take care of themselves, they will know how."
The regional council of the Boy Scouts scheduled a hearing for Sept. 8 on Smith's ouster. Numerous protests came from the parents of the 35 members of the troop, and 14 of them gave Smith a vote of confidence Tuesday.

Susquehanna Is State's Last Big Pollution Project

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Sanitary Water Board today listed the Susquehanna River as the last major pollution problem in the Commonwealth.

But Health Secretary Charles L. Wilbur Jr., board chairman, emphasized that "substantial progress" was being made on this stream, the largest in Pennsylvania.

"We have our problems here and there on the Susquehanna River but we hope that over the years they will be solved," Dr. Wilbur told a newsman. "There are now long stretches of this river that are free of pollution."

A board spokesman said more than 35 million dollars has been spent by some 90 municipalities and scores of industries in the Susquehanna River watershed on sewage treatment plants and other antipollution measures.

But the cleanup project on the Susquehanna is still at less than the halfway mark because of two major roadblocks listed by the board:

1 No way has been found to neutralize economically the acid mine water from abandoned soft coal mines on the west branch of the river, principally in the Clearfield area.

2 Wilkes-Barre and several surrounding communities have objected to constructing sewage treatment plants on the claim such construction is not possible because of recurring mine subsidences. The board is seeking in Dauphin County Court to force such construction.

It cost more than 35 million dollars to clean up the Schuylkill River. The Allegheny County Sanitary Authority is embarked on an 80-million-dollar program that will considerably reduce pollution on the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers.

The city of Philadelphia spent 60 million dollars on sewage treatment plants, an expenditure that helped to rid both the Delaware and Schuylkill Rivers of pollution.

The board said the Juniata River and the Sinnemahoning Creek, two major tributaries of the Susquehanna are in good shape pollution-wise because of cooperation of communities along those streams.

Why Khrushchev Placates Red China

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Special Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (NEA) — While President Eisenhower approaches the summit meeting reluctantly and with misgivings, Nikita Khrushchev is edging into the international arena with his own pack of troubles which considerably reduce Moscow's bargaining position.

This is the consensus of Western intelligence experts who see Khrushchev's trip to Red China on the eve of the summit conference as another indication of the desperation to which the Kremlin's chieftain has been reduced in his efforts to stay at the helm of the Red bloc.

"The trouble with the State Department is that it takes the Editor's Note: — On July 24, Leon Dennen wrote, "Red China is becoming increasingly the No. 1 headache in Moscow." Seven days later Nikita Khrushchev secretly flew to Peking to placate Chinese Red Leader Mao Tse-tung. In the following dispatch Dennen tells why Khrushchev took this surprise action in the midst of summit preparations and indicates how our psychological experts hope to exploit it to the West's advantage.

unity of the Red bloc far too much for granted" a top U. S. expert on psychological warfare told me.

He added, "One of the most serious drawbacks of Western diplomacy is its failure to take full advantage of the deep differences inside the Red camp."

Students of Communist policy have long been aware that Mao Tse-tung resents the fact that Khrushchev has been maneuvering for a top-level conference with the West which would include India's Prime Minister Nehru as spokesman for Asia rather than Red China's leader. While Moscow's Pravda lately has printed laudatory statements about Khrushchev's "wise policies" by the satellite chiefs of Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria, East Germany, Czechoslovakia and even Poland, Red China was — except for one minor statement — conspicuously silent.

to eat humble pie when he has to, thus swallowed his pride and went to see Mao instead of — as was the iron rule in Stalin's day — Red China's leader going to Moscow.

(When Khrushchev needed the support of Marshal Tito on the eve of the Geneva Summit meeting in 1955 he made a similar humble pilgrimage to Yugoslavia. This does not prevent him now from branding Tito as a tool of "American imperialism.")

Russia's and Red China's rulers, like the oriental horse traders they are, issued a joint

DEMOCRATIC

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Democratic party official says small political contributions have advantages both for the party and the giver.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, Wednesday cited advantages of contributions of $1 or $5 from persons who believe in the principles of the Democratic party in a statement announcing the annual "dollars for democrats" drive.

"This method of fund-raising has a great potential and could develop into the major source of party funds in the future," he said. The party chairman also said the small contributions had the advantage of increasing voter interest in "political campaigns and issues, and voter participation at the polls."

Barr named Matthew H. McCloskey, Philadelphia contractor, to head the state drive from Sept. 26 to 29. McCloskey already is raising funds among Democrats, including state employees, for a $100-a-plate dinner here Sept. 11.

Wife of Former Local Trooper to Be Prison Matron

ERIE—Erie County Prison Board members have authorized the hiring of the wife of newly-named warden Bruce Reeder as matron of the county prison.

Mrs. Reeder, who is currently assistant matron and cook at the prison, will move into the matronship when her husband takes over the job of her father, Warden Jay Sherman, on September 1.

The board also authorized Reeder to hire Miss Donna Carideo, Erie, to fill the vacancy being created by the promotion of Mrs. Reeder.

County commissioners and the controller, sitting as the county salary board, will have to act on the salaries for appointees. The posts currently pay $3,224 for the matron, a job presently held by retiring warden Sherman's wife, and $3,369 for the assistant matron and cook.

Reeder asked that Miss Carideo be started at the present rate of pay of the assistant cook, rather than at the bottom of the salary schedule. He further requested that the 29-year-old Miss Carideo be allowed to reside at the prison home.

Reeder, a 22-year veteran with the State Police, was named to the post being vacated by his father-in-law in June by the prison board.

His salary, $4,715 (if it isn't increased by the salary board), plus his wife's salary, totals $7,939. In addition the Reeders will get a home, rent-free, plus food and furnishing during the duration of his wardenship.

In an earlier move, prison board members authorized over-time pay for prison employees. They previously had worked overtime for no extra pay.

TELEPHONE TRANSACTION

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP)—David Gregory and his younger brother, Charles, picked more strawberries than their mother wanted. They tried to sell the extra berries without success.

David then started calling friends by telephone. No sales. Then Charles took the phone. "I'll sell them," he said. Charles dialed the operator. "Want some strawberries?" he asked. The operator turned him over to the chief operator. Charles repeated his question. "Sure," the chief operator said. "I'll take six boxes."

The two boys sold six boxes of berries to the chief operator and seven more to other telephone employees.

Conditions Over Coming Months to Affect State Fund

HARRISBURG (AP)—A report on state revenues indicates that business conditions over the next 10 months probably will decide whether state revenues meet budget goals for the biennium.

A joint report by John H. Ferguson, secretary of administration, and A. Allen Sulcove, acting secretary of revenue, Wednesday noted that revenues of the state's general fund ran 1.9 per cent below estimates for the first 14 months of the two-year period.

The 3 per cent sales tax receipts, the state's largest revenue raiser, and the corporate net income tax, both were below estimates for the 14-month period through the end of July.

The sales tax receipts were $236.1 million, or 2.4 per cent below estimates. Income from the CNI tax was $145 million, 13.7 per cent under the estimates.

The report said the drop in CNI tax revenue, the state's second largest money source for the general fund, reflected the national decline in corporate earnings. The rate of pickup in the retail sale of durable goods was called the key to whether these leading revenue sources will be able to help the state reach its budget target for the 1957-59 biennium.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Pleased at his treatment on a minor traffic charge, motorist O. Elmer Diesen told Traffic Judge Tom Bergin:

"I'd like to give you a nice dish of strawberries from my garden, or some sweet corn when it's ripe."

"Heavens no," declined his honor, "the grand jury might get after me."

Erie County D.A. To Investigate School Defects

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Dist. Atty. Herbert Johnson Jr. of Erie County says he will conduct a full-scale investigation of defects in the year-old, six million dollar building here.

The school principal Victor Donovan, had reported to school directors that he found defects in the building's walls, ceilings, floors, plumbing and doors and in its heating and ventilation systems.

Predicting that his investigation will encounter "immense difficulties," the district attorney appealed for public cooperation Wednesday night.

"Anyone," he said, "who has any knowledge that might lead to the uncovering of possible fraud in the construction of this school is urged to get in touch with this office."

Johnson told newsmen he is studying the state school laws to learn how much authority he has in this type case. He added that

Old Veteran of Football Ponders Timely Question

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Can Pennsylvania whip the nation? That's the question that Bernie Bierman, an old veteran of football wars, is pondering today.

Bierman will send his Pennsylvania Scholastic All-Stars against selected stars from the rest of the nation Saturday night in a game designed to prove a claim that the Keystone State annually produces the best high-schoolers in the game.

Can he beat the best from the other 47 states? Bierman learned long ago when he was coaching his powerhouse University of Minnesota teams not to make predictions.

"I've told them (the team) of the challenge they face. It's the toughest of their young careers," he said.

"The pressure's all on Pennsylvania," the veteran coach declared. "Why those all-Americans don't have a man under six foot and they are a big bunch of fellows."

Bierman has said he will use offensive and defensive platoons in the game with some of the players going both ways. Lloyd Jordan, Harvard coach and former Pitt star who is coaching the All-America team, said he would use a first and second team with most of the boys playing both offense and defense.

since the defects were made public, he has received numerous requests for an investigation.

Bus Drivers in New Castle Are Out on a Strike

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP)—This city of 30,000 was without the service of its major bus company today due to a strike of 45 drivers against the Shenango Valley Transportation Co.

The drivers struck last night following a vain last-minute effort to arrive at a new contract agreement between the company and the drivers' union, Local 89 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees. Another meeting was set for next Wednesday.

The old contract expired June 30, but two extensions had kept it in effect through Wednesday.

Major Edward A. DeCarbo and Federal Mediator A. A. Desser tried without luck to get the two sides to agree on a new pact.

After the break-off in talks Wednesday night, the mayor said he will introduce in city council next Tuesday a proposed ordinance that would create a transportation authority for the city. He asked the company and union to submit their views on an authority in writing.

The union wants a wage increase, but the amount sought has not been made public. The company claims it can't comply with union demands because it has been losing money.

Son of Clarendon Woman Is Fatally Hurt in Accident

Ralph L. Mimm, who was the son of Mrs. Orda Vandenberg of Clarendon, died at 2:40 a. m. today in Kane Community Hospital as the result of injuries received about 11:00 a. m. Wednesday in an automobile accident near Ludlow.

His wife told the Times-Mirror this morning he had been employed in Pittsburgh until recently, when the family came to vacation in a cottage at Wardwell on the Allegheny River.

She stated he was driving alone at the time of the accident, his station wagon apparently skidding on gravel on the Gibbs Hill road, leaving the highway and crashing over an embankment into a tree. Taken by ambulance to the Kane hospital, it was learned he was in deep shock, had lost a great deal of blood, and had internal injuries.

Mr. Mimm was born at Newmansville April 21, 1906, and was a member of First Presbyterian church at Coraopolis; Union Lodge No. 334, F. and A. M., and Ozark Grotto, at Bradford; also of Coudersport Consistory. During the time he was a mortician in Bradford, he was a candidate for the office of coroner in McKean county.

Survivors include his wife, Marian Stockton Mimm; a daughter, Mrs. Duane Carl, of Niagara Falls, N. Y.; and a son, John, at home; two grandchildren, Jeffrey Alan and Pamela Susan Carl; his mother, Mrs. Vandenberg, in Clarendon; two brothers and one sister, Robert Vandenberg, Ludlow; Russell Vandenberg, and Mrs. Gordon Kerwin, Clarendon; also several aunts and uncles.

Many Playoffs On Sked Tonight For Series Day

In preparation for Saturday's Hot Stove League World Series Day on Memorial Field, several playoffs to determine the two competing teams in each league have been completed with a divisional winner. One game is scheduled for this evening.

In Bantam League, Thomas Flexible Coupling of seventh ward are winners of Western division and will battle Exchange Hotel of ward 9, winners of Eastern division, in Charlie Musante Day competition.

Warren National Bank, seventh ward winners in Eastern division of Midget League over three tough teams, Solar Electric, Barnhart Davis and Western Auto, is slated to meet Struthers Wells. Four teams in Eastern were probably better than any five teams in that league this season. Struthers fought right down to the wire with Akeley Merchants in a recent encounter, nearly bringing about a tie.

J & R Esso were removed from competition last evening when Interlectric became Cadet City champions defeating J & R on Memorial. Interlectric, with two front line pitchers in Steve Massa and Dick Cederquist, will battle Kinzua, winner of County Cadet League laurels. The Massa-Cederquist combination has lost only one game. Kinzua has a last ball pitcher in D. Flatt.

Any intermediate playoffs will be staged this evening at 6 p. m. Fifth ward Sylvania, first half holders, will battle Warren Kiwanis, sixth and eighth ward players and winners of second half, Saturday.

Also scheduled is a tough game between Betts Machine Shop, first half winners, and Youngville American Legion, second half, in Junior League.

Warren Kiwanis Club is sponsoring World Series Day officially dubbed by Burgess William E. Rice, "Charlie Musante Day," benefit for Kiwanis and Hot Stove Welfare funds. Festivities will begin Saturday morning with an 11 a. m. parade of teams marching to Memorial field.

Starting time for playoffs is 12 o'clock noon when Bantams take to the field; Midgets at 1 p. m.; Cadets 2:30; Intermediates 4; Juniors 5:30 p. m. It'll be big league ball—Hot Stove style!

DOESN'T LIKE MIDGETS

BELLELEVILLE, N. J. (AP)—Alvin Outcalt told police Wednesday night that for the second time in five days some muscular fellows had apparently carried his small foreign car from his driveway to his neighbor's. He said he could think of no reason for the moving job.

U. S. Envoy to Addis Ababa, the Ethiopian capital, and goes to Greece tomorrow.

"I feel personally I now have a much better appreciation and understanding of the problems here," Murphy said. "It was a very satisfactory evening."

CAIRO (AP)—President Eisenhower's special envoy, Robert Murphy, finally got to see President Nasser for a four-hour conference Wednesday night after being kept waiting all day.

While the Arab nationalist leader was administering his measure of snub to the United States, his top military leader was off in Saudi Arabia on a surprise mission to King Saud, whose country produces vast amounts of oil for the West from American-developed wells.

Informed sources said the President of the United Arab Republic was angered by three recent American actions in particular:

1. Landing of U.S. troop reinforcements in Lebanon after the election of Gen. Fuad Shهاب as a compromise president and Murphy's statement on arrival in Cairo that there are no present plans for an American withdrawal from Lebanon.

2. Washington's insistence, in agreeing to a U.N. Assembly session on the Middle East, on keeping alive its charges that the U.A.R. is fomenting trouble in Lebanon.

3. Secretary of State Dulles' statement that Nasser is not a true Arab nationalist but a power seeker using subversion, intrigue and Soviet help to extend his domain.

In his belated conference with Murphy, the President of the United Arab Republic undoubtedly followed up his show of pique with a sharp attack on U.S. policy in the Middle East. There were smiles all around, however, when the conferees posed for photographers before they got down to talking.

Sitting in with Nasser were his chief political adviser, Ali Sabry, and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi. U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare, who had been kept waiting 35 minutes by Fawzi earlier in the day, accompanied Murphy to the meeting in Nasser's study.

Meanwhile, the semi-official Middle East News Agency reported that Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer, the military commander of the U.A.R., had flown to visit Saud at the monarch's summer palace.

Not long ago Nasser was accusing Saud of financing a plot to assassinate him. But recently the Arabian King has drawn no mention in the Egyptian press. The soft-pedaling followed the rise to power of Crown Prince Feisal, who forced his older brother to name him premier. Feisal, who is believed to be more friendly toward Nasser than Saud, sat in on the talks with Amer.

The American supply airlift from Cyprus to British forces in Jordan resumed Wednesday night after Israel agreed anew to allow British-American flights across her territory. Israel had halted the flights over the weekend.

Torch Burning

staggered into the hospital at Pontiac, 30 miles away, at 1 a. m. Monday.

Adams, who would not discuss possible motives, entered the investigation Wednesday at the request of Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Adams questioned witnesses all the night. "We are left with the following theories: That this was an organized attempt as part of Kierdorf's union activity, or he did it on his own," Adams said.

The witnesses included operators of several dry cleaning establishments that have been dynamited recently.

George W. Latreille, owner of the burned cleaners, told newsmen he had been contacted several years ago by union men about the possibility of organizing his workers, but nothing came of it.

Latreille said his employees are not organized and that he has not had any trouble. He did not identify which union had sought to organize his employees.

Kierdorf refused to answer police questions for nearly 15 hours after he staggered into the hospital. Finally, his uncle, Herman Kierdorf, 68, helped police get a story from his nephew.

The uncle, a former Teamsters official, then vowed revenge for the burning and disappearance.

The nephew told police that two men he didn't know had tricked him into leaving his Flint home by saying they wanted to see him on union business. They took him at gunpoint to a wooded spot off a gravel road, he said and doused him with a fluid and set him afire.

50 Per Cent Drop Noted In South Penn Income

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—John E. Selden, president of the South Penn Oil Co., says the low point of the recession may have been reached.

In explaining an approximate 50 per cent drop in South Penn's net income for the first six months of 1958 as compared to the same period of last year, Selden said:

"This was occasioned primarily by reduced crude oil sales together with a declining price trend for both crude oil and refined products and to a lesser extent to the decreased volume of products sold."

South Penn reported a net income of $1,630,503 or $1.03 a share for the first half of 1958 compared to $3,127,881 or $1.97 a share for the corresponding period of 1957.

any hope for farm legislation at this session.

2. Voted 286-108 to boost the federal debt limit to 288 billion dollars. The permanent ceiling now is 275 billion, although Congress earlier in the session boosted that 280 billion. The House bill would set a new permanent top of 285 billion, and would authorize the 288 billion ceiling until June 30, 1960. This would be the biggest peacetime limit ever.

3. Passed by voice vote a bill requiring public reporting of employee pension and welfare plans, whether administered by employers or labor unions. A somewhat different bill has passed the Senate. A conference of both houses may be needed to work out differences.

In approving the four-year extension of the trade program, the conferees split the difference between the original House and Senate versions. The House, in line with administration requests, had voted for a five-year extension with authority to cut tariffs another 25 per cent in return for similar concessions from foreign nations. The Senate had passed a three-year extension with a 15 per cent limit on addition to tariff cuts. The conferees cut out a Senate provision to limit cuts in any one year to 5 per cent.

senhower said the United States is approaching the prospective Assembly meeting with two purposes in mind.

The initial purpose, he said, would be to "show that we had acted within the spirit of the United Nations" in putting troops into Lebanon in mid-July to support that nation's independence.

The second purpose, the President said, would be "to put all our emphasis on constructive things to help the peoples of this area, to help them develop themselves, and to bring about a peace not only by the advances they make but by their certainty that we are doing it . . . for that reason."

Asked specifically about the idea of neutralizing the Middle East area, he replied that in anticipating a summit conference "we certainly were prepared to discuss such a thing."

Liston Hammers Out Victory Over Bethea in 1:09

CHICAGO (AP) — Piston-punching Sonny Liston's handlers hollered for a match with heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson and blurted Wayne Bethea's camp called about a "jobbing" after a 62-second Chicago Stadium bout Wednesday night.

Liston hammered a quick TWO over Bethea in a nationally-televised march for his 12th consecutive victory and 19th in 20 fights.

But Bethea's co-manager, Tony Vone, screamed at Referee Bernie Weissman, who called a halt after 1:09. "It was in the bag—I could see it in your eyes."

Before the finish, Bethea was floored for the first time in his 29-fight career.

Vone, who only has a second's license in Illinois, repeated the same statement to reporters in the dressing room after the fight.

Frank Gilmer, chairman of the Illinois State Athletic Commission, said he would wait to see a printed version of Vone's charge before summoning him for an official explanation.

After the referee had pronounced Liston the winner, International Boxing Club President Truman Gibson announced he was offering heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson a $250,000 guarantee to defend his title against Liston in Chicago.

Liston weighed 206 and Bethea 224.

TV fans also saw a wild heavy-weight "emergency bout," in which former Olympic wrestling champion Dan Hodge, was stopped in the fourth by Art Norris of Chicago.

Dairymen contributed 25.07 per cent of the total farm income of Ohio during 1958.

Pitcher Willey Earns Respect of Murtaugh's Bucs

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Rookie right-hander Carl Willey of the league-leading Milwaukee Braves has earned the respect of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

He allowed the Pirates only three hits Wednesday night in leading the Braves to a 2-1 victory for his fourth straight triumph and sixth of the year. He has lost three.

The Pirates got good pitching from Vern Law, who gave up six hits before he was taken out for a pinchhitter in the eighth.

The Braves scored their only runs off Law (9-10) in the first inning.

Red Schoendienst accounted for the Pirates' run when he belted the second pitch of the game for his sixth home run this year.

Virdon also doubled to open the ninth, but was left stranded as Roberto Clemente lined out and Dick Stuart and Frank Thomas struck out.

In winning their eighth game in nine starts, the Braves moved out in front by six games, their biggest bulge of the season.

INTERELECTRIC CADETS TAKE CITY TITLE

Beating J & R Esso 7-3 on Memorial last evening, Interelectric became new City champs in Hot Stove Competition. J & R was held scoreless until the fourth when one run was scored one each in fifth and sixth innings, also.

Thompson and Massa were holders of triples for Interelectric, Ponsoli a double for J & R Batteries. Massa-Thompson for Interelectric; Ponsoli-Suppa, J & R. Massa winning pitcher.

Urgent Message For Perry Jones From Down Under

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J. (AP) — Urgent message for Perry Jones, U. S. Davis Cup captain:

C'mon down here to the Eastern Grass Court Championships and see a boy who knows how to play tennis.

John Cranston, a 21-year-old from San Marino, Calif., is the boy and he's doing a man-sized job of knocking off both Australian and American Davis Cuppers.

Cranston is ranked 28th in the United States, about par for a left-hander, but the way he whipped Houston's Sam Giamalva Wednesday and Wimbledon champion Ashley Cooper Tuesday he's making the ratings look as stale as the American League pennant race.

Venturi Arrives In Milwaukee to Defend His Title

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Handsome Ken Venturi of San Francisco, his putting troubles apparently behind him, opens defense of his Milwaukee Open golf championship today at the Tripoli Golf Club.

Venturi headed a field of 150, including nine of professional golf's 10 leading money winners, bent on taming Tripoli's 35-35-70 standard during the 72-hole, $35,000 tournament. First prize is $5,300.

The dark-haired, 27-year-old former auto dealer shaved 13 strokes off par a year ago, winning with a 267.

He comes here fresh from the Chicago Open where he clinched a $9,000 one-stroke victory by canning a 60-foot putt on the 69th green.

British Cricket Players Challenge Yanks in London

LONDON (AP) — A team of British cricket players has challenged American residents in London to a match on the 148th anniversary of the day the English burned down the White House.

The Americans have accepted.

The cricket match will be played on the Royal Artillery Cricket Grounds on Aug. 24.

In 1810 "the gentlemen of Philadelphia" sent a team to this country and beat "the gentlemen of Hampshire" by two runs.

Joseph Filiston, 96, who played in that match for the Limeys, has promised to be present when the new British team, the Lord's Taverners, meets the American amateurs.

The Duke of Edinburgh will be the Lord's Taverners' 12th man. Never has an 11-man cricket team had a nobler substitute.

Three Jockeys To Be Enshrined in Museum

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP) — Three jockeys, trainers and horses shortly will be enshrined in the Hall of Fame at Saratoga's Museum of Racing alongside other great names of the thoroughbred sport.

Elected to the Hall in a nationwide poll were trainers Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, Ben A. Jones and Hirsch Jacobs; jockeys Eddie Arcaro, Johnny Longden and Willie Shoemaker; and Seabiscuit, Equipoise and War Admiral.

The horses were elected from a panel of 20 who raced during the period of 1931-40.

Walter M. Jeffords, museum president, said more than 2,000 sports writers and sportscasters voted.

Speaking of Sports

The season and bag limits governing the hunting and taking of certain migratory game birds in 1958 are to be established by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The following federal regulations will be effective in Pennsylvania for the taking of rails and gallinules, including sora—from September 1 to November 8, inclusive. The bag limit for rails and gallinules, except sora, is 15 daily, but not more than 30 may be in possession after the first day. The daily and possession limit of sora is 25. Woodcock may be hunted from October 15 through November 22. The daily limit is 4; the possession limit 8 after the first day. The 1958 dates and limits are about as last year for the birds named above. But there are changes in the mourning dove season, shooting hours and aggregate possession limit this year. The dove season—September 1 to November 4, inclusive—begins earlier and ends later than in 1957, but the shooting hours will be noon to sunset, ONLY. The daily bag is 10 and the possession limit after the first day is 20. The aggregate possession limit is twice that of 1957. No game of any kind may be hunted on Sunday in Pennsylvania. The opening hour for ALL wild birds on October 25 will be 8 a. m., EST. Shooting hours and other pertinent federal regulations on waterfowl will be announced later.

Sixty to 80 Canada geese make their home and raise their young on islands in the Schuylkill River near Mont Clare, Montgomery County. "This spring," says Game Protector W. E. Shaver, "a sportsman wading the river approached one of the islands and saw a female goose on her nest. As the man drew near the bird stood up and hissed at him. This did not surprise the intruder but what he saw in the nest did. It contained 2 goose eggs and a large glass bottle. The sportsman photographed the unusual scene and sent me a picture."

Celoron and Jamestown entries in National Skating meet in Cleveland, skating under colors of Skateland Rink at Celoron placed in the first dozen and above in virtually all events. Top places taken included: Russell Zimmer's fifth in men's free style in a field of 28; his brother Bradley was tenth in junior free style with a field of 30, eighth in junior figures, and with Darlene Edwards, Eastern pairs champs, the two placed tenth in competition with 23 sets; Darlene secured second in girls' juvenile freestyle; Willie Wilcox was 17th in novice men's free style. A total of 2,020 from virtually every state in the union and Alaska and Mexico participated in the event.

Inventor Wins Right to Trial In Secret Court

NEW YORK (AP)—The inventor of a top-secret device has won the right to trial behind closed doors of his suit against the government for compensation.

The decision was handed down Tuesday by the U. S. Court of Appeals.

Dr. Otto Halpern, a Vienna-born physicist, had been unable to come to terms with the government for a device he invented in 1941.

So secret is the device that its only description disclosed by the Navy is that it "deals with a manner and means whereby an object may escape observation and detection by radar."

Last September Halpern filed suit for "hundreds of thousands of dollars" against the government for use of the device. Halpern's lawyers said he was offered less than $50,000 for outright acquisition of the device. The offer was rejected.

In rejecting the suit a federal judge cited the Invention Secrecy Act of 1951, which provides that no patent can be given for secret military devices until potential enemies of the United States have the secret.

Judge David N. Edelstein contended the Secrecy Act precluded any action until declassification of the invention.

In Tuesday's precedent-setting decision, the appeals court ruled Halpern's suit might be tried in camera in private before a single judge. "If in the judgment of the District Court such a trial can be carried out without substantial risk that secret information will be publicly divulged."

Halpern was denied a patent in 1945 on the grounds one would make his secret public.

WINNER KNOWS FOE'S WEAKNESS

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Lee Hazen of New York has been one of our best and smartest dummy players for many years.

His opening no-trump was slightly shaded but he certainly held 15 good points plus one ten and two nines. If North had only bid two no-trump, Lee probably would have passed but North had great confidence in Lee's dummy play and jumped right to game.

West opened the deuce of clubs and Lee won East's queen with the ace. He saw no reason to hold off since the heart suit was also stopped only once.

He led a diamond to dummy's ace and East dropped the jack. Now Lee held the queen of diamonds.

Against many players Lee would have laid down the king and hoped to drop the queen but Lee returned to his own hand and finessed successfully against West's queen.

Why did Lee make this play? The answer is that East was one of those inveterate false-carders and Lee knew that he was. Hence, East would surely have dropped the queen if he held both queen and jack.

Pennsylvania Outdoors...

Prepared by Pennsylvania Game Commission

The seasons and bag limits governing the hunting and taking of certain migratory game birds in 1958 are to be established by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The following federal regulations will be effective in Pennsylvania for the taking of rails and gallinules, including sora—from September 1 to November 8, inclusive. The bag limit for rails and gallinules, except sora, is 15 daily but not more than 20 may be in possession after the first day. The daily and possession limit of sora is 25. Woodcock may be hunted from October 15 through November 22. The daily limit is 4, the possession limit 8 after the first day. The 1958 dates and limits are about as last year for the birds named above. But there are changes in the mourning dove season, shooting hours and aggregate possession limit this year. The dove season—September 1 to November 4 inclusive—begins earlier and ends later than in 1957, but the shooting hours will be noon to sunset ONLY. The daily bag is 10 and the possession limit after the first day is 20. The aggregate possession limit is twice that of 1957. No game of any kind may be hunted on Sunday in Pennsylvania. The opening hour for ALL wild birds and animals on October 25 will be 8 a. m. EST. Shooting hours and other pertinent federal regulations on waterfowl will be announced later.

Goose Incubates Glass "Egg"

Sixty to 80 Canada geese make their summer home and raise their young on islands in the Schuylkill River near Mont Clare, Montgomery County. "This spring," says Game Protector W. E. Shaver, "a sportsman wading the river approached one of the islands and saw a female goose on her nest. As the man drew near the bird stood up and hissed at him. This did not surprise the intruder but what he saw in the nest did. It contained 2 goose eggs and a large glass bottle. The sportsman photographed the unusual scene and sent me a picture."

"I got behind some cover studied the situation through binoculars and saw that the pair of ringnecks were battling a good-sized woodchuck. The birds flew at the animal to peck at it and the cock bird made use of his spurs. After a few minutes the chuck had his fill of it, and took refuge in his burrow. Moving closer to investigate I observed that the pheasants had a nice brood of chicks for which they were quite ready to do battle."

Last Journey For Banded Bird

A dead chimney swift was found near Myerstown, Pa., a few weeks ago. A U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service band on the bird's leg was turned over to Game Protector E. J. Turner, Lebanon County. Said Turner, "I forwarded the little bracelet to the Service at Washington, D. C. The records revealed that this chimney swift was banded at Hildago County Court House Edinburg Texas on April 25, 1956 by Dr. Pauline Jones."

An outstanding catch of all-around lawbreakers was accomplished in northern Pennsylvania early this month as the result of investigations carried on by Game Protectors and a Fish Warden, and was completed through the cooperative efforts of State Police officers.

Cases successfully prosecuted involved 9 young men and resulted in the collection of $545 in Fish Law fines and $600 in Game Law fines. Nine cabin robbery cases in the vicinity were also cleared up as an outcome of the game and fish investigations and interrogations of the culprits.

The violators involved killed a deer caught fish in a licensed fish propagation pond, broke into camps and destroyed timber.

Game Protectors who made the investigations and prosecutions were Norman Erickson, Emporium, and Fred Servey, St. Marys. The Fish Warden was N. Clair Pleege, Daguer Mines. The Game Commission's Executive Director M. J. Golden and the Commission's Northcentral Division Supervisor, LeRoy Gleason highly praised troops from State Police Sub stations at Emporium and Ridgway for ready and capable assistance rendered in these cases.

Pheasants Fight For Young

Early this month the attention of Game Protector Wolz, Erie County, was drawn to a cock and hen pheasant which jumped about, evidently fighting for something. Wolz says,

Busy Beaters

Two Wayne County Game Protectors comment in the following on their beaver problems.

Says Frederick Wogelt, "Though last winter may have caused a hardship on some game certainly the beavers in my district prospered. Heavy snows and the low fur price offered little incentive for the trapper. The result is a beaver problem. During June, beaver complaints outnumbered those for deer 2 to 1. It has been necessary to trap in 5 or 6 places at the same time to alleviate the troubles these animals cause." In similar vein Game Protector Norman Foiche reports that "Due to deep snows last winter beaver traps made their sets mostly near roads. As a consequence I received many beaver damage complaints in June. Five of the flat tails have been hit by automobiles in my district since winter."

Man and Grouse Team Wins

A Fayette County Deputy Game Protector Paul Miller, reports that early in June a man working in his garden along Mill Run heard an uncommon commotion. He grabbed a pitchfork and investigated. To his surprise he found a blacksnake and a female grouse battling for possession of 13 eggs in the bird's nest nearby. The gardener went into action and the snake retreated, carrying wounds. The man kept the nest under surveillance until the eggs were hatched. The final tally was 11 grouse chicks and 2 unhatched eggs.

Careless Handling of Picnic Foods May Prove Dangerous

NEW YORK—The picnic season that got underway last weekend is a mixed blessing. It cuts down on dish-washing and other housekeeping chores, but it increases the possibility of food poisoning among careless picnickers.

The U. S. Public Health Service reports an average of 11,000 food poisoning cases annually. But authorities regard this figure as a gross understatement because many health boards fail to report case totals to the federal agency. There also are not statistics showing how many cases are due to careless handling of picnic food.

Whatever the figure, it could be cut greatly with cleanliness and refrigeration, says the New York Department of Health.

Cleanliness should apply to all handlers, all utensils and serving dishes and to the food. Even food prepared under completely sanitary conditions can cause poisoning if it's left unrefrigerated too long.

Cooked food should be cooled rapidly, department experts said, even if it does steam up the refrigerator. Don't wait for cooked food to reach room temperature, especially on a hot day. Put it in the refrigerator soon after it comes off the stove.

Don't count on detecting bad food from its odor or flavor, the health department warned. Food poisoning is not caused by spoiled or rotted food or by "ptomaines". These dangers can be anticipated and avoided through scent or taste.

Germs and chemicals that cause food poisoning don't change the appearance, taste and aroma of either highly-perishable cream foods and custards or less perishable salads, such as hams.

Chances of avoiding food poisoning are better if you select foods that keep well. These generally are foods that have been cooked before serving and kept adequately refrigerated until mealtime, or dry or acid foods that resist bacterial growth.

This includes bread, cookies, crackers or sponge cake. It also includes all raw fruits and vegetables, fruit juices, dry and cooked cereals, cooked vegetables, stewed fruits, cheeses, canned fish, canned baked beans, fried or boiled eggs, jellies and jams.

This rules out traditional picnic items such as ham and chicken salads, potato or macaroni salad, dairy foods and mayonnaise. They are more readily contaminated, the health department said. If you do use them, don't mix in the mayonnaise or salad dressing until serving time, because the solid foods will reduce the dressing's acidity which protects it from contamination.

Awarding Bonds To Spur Registration Illegal

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—The Montgomery County district attorney has ruled that awarding chances for defense bonds as a spur to voter registration violates Pennsylvania's lottery laws.

Pottstown's labor unions offered four $50 bonds, to be awarded by luck of the draw, to those registering at the Borough Hall Monday. The bond draw was the idea of the Committee on Political Education of Pottstown's AFL-CIO unions.

Dist. Atty. Bernard DiJoseph sent two county detectives here: They conferred with Pottstown Police Chief Harold E. Hahn. Hahn summoned Harry B. Travis, president of the Committee on Political Education, and told him the incentive awards were violating the lottery law.

Travis cancelled the tickets that had been handed out and called off the draw.

HOLY SMOKE
BLACKSTONE, Va. (AP)—The new Jonesboro Baptist Church parsonage was built from leaf tobacco.

Five years ago the church members, mostly tenant tobacco farmers, began planting, harvesting and selling tobacco from a plot for the church. The crop from an acre and a half enabled them to construct the building.

Californians Plan To Sail Sloop To Europe

HAMBLE, England (AP)—Three young Californians said today they plan to sail a 10-ton racing boat across the Atlantic even though yachting veterans say it will be suicide.

They are Bill Ayres, 29, Garden Grove; and James May, 27, and Henry Burleson, 28, both of Glendale.

They are refitting their sloop, Lerche, and plan to start before the end of August.

The Lerche has a beam of only 8 feet and an over-all length of 41 feet. Seasoned yachtsmen said the Lerche and her crew will be lucky to get through the English Channel.

"We are looking for adventure and no one is going to stop us," said Ayres, a veteran merchant seaman.

Discovery in Italy Pushes Beginning of Man Back at Least Eleven Million Years

GROSSETO, Italy (AP)—The skeleton of a child-sized man, found 600 feet down in an Italian soft coal mine, may prove man didn't descend from apes, according to Swiss scientist Dr. Johannes Hurler of the Basel Museum of Natural History.

The skeleton, found after two years of digging, pushes the beginnings of man back to at least 11 million years ago, he said.

That would mean, he explained, that man descended in the same period as the apes—or even before them—perhaps from some common ancestor which resembled neither.

The previous oldest known man was Australopithecus, the so-called southern ape found in South Africa. He dates back only half a million to a million years, and the Java and Peking men go back only about 300,000 years.

Two young miners, Enzo Boccacini, 22, and Arzelo Guisarlotti, 26, found the nearly complete skeleton last week. The bones jutted from a coal strata in the Baccinello mine located 15 miles northeast of Grosseto.

There scattered bones of Croopithecus, the new pre-man, were found two years ago by a team headed by Dr. Hurler and Dr. Helmut de Terra of New York's Columbia University. The name means mountain ape in Greek.

Dr. Hurler said the new discovery apparently includes the arms and legs, spine, ribs and pelvis of a pre-man about four feet tall. There was no skull, but digging is continuing along the vein in the hope that the skull will turn up.

Dr. Hurler said the coal strata where the skeleton was found is a deposit at least 11 million years old.

Two years ago, in his studies at the mine, Dr. de Terra said the bones might date back "as far as 15 to 20 million years." At that time parts of a skull, jawbone and fragments of vertebra had been found. They belonged to a man-like creature which Dr. de Terra described as somewhere between the size of a chimpanzee and a gorilla.

He said the teeth were man-like and the jaw was short and vertical, like that of a man, instead of jutting out like an ape's.

Legless Man Stages Return After 15 Years in Hospital

CHICAGO (AP)—A legless man who spent 15 years on his stomach in a hospital after an automobile accident has driven 18,000 miles since his discharge a year ago seeking to rebuild his former business.

Cornelius (Bud) Koster, who operated an electrical sign business before his spine was crushed in the accident in 1942, has put this mileage on his specially rigged car driving in the suburban Bellwood area in search of new business.

"I want to get back where I was before I got hurt," Koster told a reporter. "The way I look at it, if a guy really wants to do something he can do it."

A year ago Koster, 38, was released from the Cook County Hospital after his marriage to Mrs. Josephine Masterson, 41.

Mrs. Koster rides with him at night after she gets home from her job as a telephone company supervisor. She writes down the names of businesses where they see faulty neon signs. The next day Bud drops the firms a card calling attention to the trouble and offering his services as a electrical and neon sign expert.

Bud gets around in a wheel chair and negotiates the stairs in an elevator which he adapted from a builder's brick-hauling elevator.

Some Facts You May Not Know About Foresters

By DION HENDERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Every time a forecaster looks at an idle acre or two, he reacts like a man seeing a lazy brother-in-law unloading a truck from a taxi. He thinks about all kinds of fruitful things the innocent subject might better be doing.

In the forecaster's case, the all kinds of things are all trees, and the members of various kinds that can be grown on idle acres.

Farmers and foresters, though, historically are not what you might call tuned in to this area. The average farmer understandably when told that the five acre patch of scrub out on the north 40 is one of the nation's major resources for a wood-hungry future.

And this skepticism, if you want to follow it up, helps explain why the good old kitchen match, for instance — with a good solid heft to it and as much wood as the tip section on a trout rod — became a luxury a decade or two ago.

When conservation departments started work on forest inventories a spell back, some of their technicians began to doubt the results of their own figures. Even in major timber-producing states, the total acreage of farm woodlots and disregarded patches of hard-to-work land began to approach the acreage of commercial forests.

Yet these woods were being used as summer range for cows much oftener than they were being used to produce either timber for industry or revenue for the owner.

In forest-conscious area, farm woodlot management has been underway on the state level for some time, with official and private forestry experts doing all they can to help.

And within the next few days, the National Tree Farm section of American Forest Products Industries will launch a how-to-do-it-program to help turn small woodlot owners into part-time Paul Bunyans.

Changeover to New Stamp Rates Going Smoothly

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield reports that the changeover to new postage rates is proceeding smoothly throughout the nation. He summarizes the situation as follows:

1. Supplies of the most-needed 4c and 7c airmail stamps are plentiful.

2. Although most postmasters had laid in supplies of 1c stamps to meet up to a half year's normal demand, a "run" on penny stamps created a touch and go situation in some offices. In Boston, for example, sales of 1c stamps average 500 a day normally. On July 31 the Boston Post Office sold 180,000. Several major cities in upstate New York had to ration penny stamps—5 to a patron, until new supplies were received the following Saturday. The Warren Post Office, fortunately, had an ample inventory of penny stamps to take care of its own needs as well as those of many off he smaller offices in the area.

3. Many post offices report that mail volume was up 25% and more above normal on Thursday, July 31. At the Warren Post Office mailings that day were "three times" those of a normal Thursday.

4. Postage due letters were as high as 30% of total mailings in some post offices Friday, August 1st. In Philadelphia 60,000 out of a total of 750,000 letters were lacking the necessary postage. In Washington, D. C., over a quarter of its outgoing letter volume August 1st lacked enough postage. In contrast, and illustrating the effectiveness of the publicity campaign, waged by the Warren postmaster, there was only a slight increase in postage dues originating in Warren and vicinity. Letters with postage due coming from other cities, however, have just about doubled in volume, resulting in quite a problem for carriers and clerks who must collect the deficiency on each piece. BE

Bill for Kettle Creek Project Is Held in Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public works bill earmarking $975,000 for the proposed Kettle Creek and Curwensville, Pa., dams was still being held up today in a House-Senate conference committee.

The measure, making appropriations for nationwide flood and navigation projects, went to the committee July 15 because versions passed by the two houses differed on some projects. Numerous closed meetings have been held since then without reaching an agreement.

The Kettle Creek project, listed in the appropriations bill for the first time, would receive $800,000. of this $350,000 would be for planning and $450,000 for construction. The Curwensville project would receive $175,000 for planning.

Local groups have pressed for congressional approval of the Kettle Creek project as a means of providing flood control and stimulating employment in such distressed areas as Renovo, Pa.

Kettle Creek is part of a four-dam project to control the amount of water entering the West Branch of the Susquehanna River. The first dam was undertaken by the state.

$11,500,000 in Security Pay in Warren District

Chautauqua County and Warren County, Pa., are receiving a total of $11,500,000 in old age, survivors and disability insurance benefits annually, according to Chester R. Norman, manager of the Jamestown Social Security office.

"Our studies have shown that many of these aged people, widows and orphans have little or no other resources," Norman said, "for something like nine per cent, social security benefits, received as an earned right, are the only cash income."

While benefits are intended primarily as a basis for individual economic security, he stressed, payments of social security benefits amounting to approximately $8,900,000 per year in Chautauqua County, and to approximately $2,600,000 per year in Warren County help business generally because most of the money is spent immediately on food, clothing and other necessities.

"This is especially true in a time of economic recession," he pointed out, "social security benefits are being paid nationally at a rate of more than $800,000,000 annually."

The following table shows the number and amount of each type of benefit, listed with beneficiaries, being paid in each county:

Chautauqua County:
Retired worker—7,932 beneficiaries, $514,516; wife or husband, 2,182, $80,028; widow or widower, 1,390, $74,162; children 1,000, $45,536; dependent parents 30, $1,634; mothers with children, 248, $13,684.

Warren County:
Retired worker—2,184 beneficiaries, $140,648; wife or husband, 702, $23,624; widow or widower, 470, $24,188; children, 370, $16,158; dependent parents, eight, $454; mothers with children, 76, $4,636.

Stock Medicines For Emergency Officials Advise

HARRISBURG (AP)—A State Health Department official says every municipality in Pennsylvania should stockpile enough essential medical supplies to care for its own immediate needs in case of a disaster.

Dr. Arthur B. Welsh, medical coordinator for the division of civil defense, said that supplies now stored in various places around the state would not be sufficient to cope with a big emergency such as an enemy attack.

"The tendency of most borough and township officials is to feel that they'll be able to get these things somewhere else if the need arises," he said.

"But after an enemy attack, radioactive fallout may prevent transporting essential supplies for two weeks or more."

Report Made on Intergovernment Relations Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee says weaknesses of the states themselves have been a major cause of the federal government's stepping into bigger aid programs over the years.

The Intergovernmental Relations subcommittee draws this conclusion from a three-year, nationwide study of grants-in-aid to the states.

Under the program, the federal government allocates funds for a wide range of projects provided the states put up money of their own too.

The subcommittee's findings are contained in a report adopted ed unanimously in closed session.

The report said federal grants for programs ranging from aid to state soldiers' homes to highway building and pollution control have climbed from 124 million dollars in 1925 to more than 5 billion for fiscal 1958.

The report said the grants generally have found favor throughout the nation.

But the subcommittee, headed by Rep. L. H. Fountain (D-N.C.), described as unsound the idea that the federal government can vacate particular tax fields and thereby automatically create revenues for the states or municipalities.

"The transfer of federal grant programs is no panacea for the weakness of state and local government," the report said.

The tax on gasoline in Utah has climbed from 2½ cents per gallon to 6 cents per gallon.

Weekly Business Review

By WALTER BREEDER, JR.
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Price hikes in aluminum and steel set the stage for a new round of inflation this week as the tempo of the nation's business quickened.

The steel price boost will heighten the cost of making thousands of consumer items ranging from step-on garbage cans to refrigerators and cars. But competition being what it is, you may not see any general rise in retail prices for a while.

Industry people say the three per cent increase in mill prices of sheet and strip steel will add about $8 to the cost of producing an automobile and a few pennies to the cost of making a stove or washing machine.

The aluminum increase sevenths of a cent a pound partially restores a two-cent cut made by producers in April.

The week brought other inflationary signals.

The Post Office upped its mailing rates. Those pretty new four-cent stamps are expected to add two dollars a year to the average family's outlay for postage.

The U. S. House of Representatives shouted its approval of a bill to boost social security benefits seven per cent. If, as seems probable, the bill becomes law, fatter social security checks will mean higher payroll taxes.

Prospects of increased red ink financing by Uncle Sam fanned inflationary fires.

Treasury Secretary Anderson said the treasury will probably show a 12-billion-dollar deficit at the end of its current fiscal year. Anderson joined President Eisenhower in begging Congress to raise the ceiling on the national debt, so the government can borrow more money. The debt limit right now is 280 billion dollars.

Corporate profits, were a lot of Uncle Sam's money comes from, are down substantially from a year ago. This week's batch of corporate earnings reports, including those of such giants as General Motors and U. S. Steel, made rather dismal reading but stockholders were told that things are finally picking up.

Scattered signs of recovery this week included the following:

General Motors' Delco Division, which makes auto ignition equipment announced plans for recalling 500 workers this month.

U. S. Steel Corp.'s National Tube Division, which makes drill pipe for the oil industry, planned to rekindle an idle blast furnace. Maytag Co. called 130 workers back to their jobs in a move to boost production of automatic clothes dryers.

The multi-billion-dollar construction industry showed new signs of life. F. W. Dodge Corp. said contracts awarded in June for future construction totaled 3,800,000—highest yet for a single month. Big increases were shown for public works, power plants, single-family homes and large apartment projects.

Other evidence of business growth:

J. C. Penney Co. opened 11 new stores. American Airlines placed orders with Boeing Airplane Co. and Convair for 50 new jet transports costing 135 million dollars.

Briefly over the business scene:

Department store sales last week showed a three per cent gain over 1957. . . . The 1959 Buick cars will go on sale Sept. 19, earliest for Buick since World War II. . . . Farm product prices declined four-tenths of one per cent between mid-June and mid-July. . . . Chrysler Corp. is entering the European small car field with the purchase of a 15 per cent interest in Simca, largest privately-owned auto company in France.

Stock sales in the latest week numbered 18,760,460 shares compared with 18,581,825 in the previous week and 8,872,680 a year ago.

Bond sales had a par value of $27,283,600 in the latest week against $24,856,000 the previous week and $16,094,600 a year ago.

ALL FOR NOTHING

DENVER (AP)—Elvres Martinez, 21, paid $3,600 for a hard-top automobile, then decided it wasn't low enough to the ground. He spent $600 more at a garage to take four inches off the top and lower the body six inches.

The first time Martinez drove his reconstructed car, a policeman stopped him and ordered the car hauled to the police pound. Not enough windshield space, the policeman ruled.

Republican State Committee Plans Drive for Voters

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Republican State Committee announced today that it would award $2,000 in prizes for counties showing the greatest voter registration increase for the November general election.

Chairman Ken Shirk of the state group's registration committee said letters were sent to all county headquarters announcing the contest.

There will be four prizes of $500 each. One will go to the county with the greatest percentage increase; another with the greatest percentage increase in the category of counties with more than 50,000 Republicans in May, 1958; $500 to the county in the 25,000-49,999 category; and $500 to the county with less than 25,000 in May.

Winning counties must distribute their prizes within the county, providing an incentive for all party workers.

Nuclear-Powered Triton To Be Launched Aug. 19

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—America's largest submarine—the nuclear-powered Triton—will be launched here Aug. 19.

Her builder, announcing this Tuesday, said the Triton will be the first vessel in history to use two atomic reactors for propulsion.

The 447-foot, 5,900-ton ship also will be the country's first nuclear-powered defense submarine.

The Triton is a radar picket submarine, built as a floating electronic island able to detect enemy planes, missiles and underwater vessels.

The Triton is designed to stay on station permanently. He power units will supply enough power to last for two or more years.

Her speed and operating depth are classified.

WEIGHTY SEXTET

The bells are named, in order of descending weight, for the Blessed Virgin Mary, St. Norbert, St. Joseph, St. Hubert, St. Stanislaus and St. Milo.

WARREN

Radio and TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Herbert Brodtkin is a tall, lean, sandy-haired man of 45 who looks as if he earned his living out of doors. Rancher? Forest ranger?

To the contrary, Brodtkin belongs to an almost extinct species: he is a producer of live TV drama. With Fred Coe and John Houseman he composes a new triumvirate which will guide the destinies of Playhouse 90 (CBS-TV) through another season.

A year ago all three were rooted New Yorkers who determinedly resisted the idea of working in Hollywood. Facing up to the economic facts of life and the westward course of television, however, all will work in Hollywood.

With a long career as a producer of live television in New York, Brodtkin quit Studio One last season rather than follow it to Hollywood, where it will shortly be interred as another live drama series that died. But he is enthusiastic about the prospects of the 15 or 20 live dramas he will produce for Playhouse 90 on the West Coast.

"Any weekly drama series is good," he says, "if it's very good every third or fourth week. The biggest problem a producer faces is having enough time to prepare scripts. There's plenty of material, but you have to have time to prepare it."

The problem of time, nearly everyone agrees, was the insurmountable problem of Martin Manulis, the talented producer of Playhouse 90 for two years. The quality of the weekly 90-minute dramatic series declined last season because, in the opinion of many viewers, production was simply too heavy a burden for one man to bear.

Of the 20 productions on which Brodtkin currently is engaged, all but one are being originally written for television.

"It's always a temptation to adapt a novel because a good story already exists," said Brodtkin. "That's the easy way. But I believe television should create its own."

Skilled Woodsmen Will Compete at Little Valley, N.Y.

The largest number of skilled woodsmen ever to meet in the Northeast will assemble at the Fair Grounds in Little Valley, N. Y., on the afternoon of Aug. 17 to match their skill and strength, using the tools of their trade. The hour will be 1:30 p. m.

State champions from several of the Northeastern states including Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia will participate in this exciting event which will furnish many interesting thrills for the thousands of spectators.

David Geer of Jewett City, Conn., who has won the Chopping Championship on the West Coast for three years, will be prominent among the contestants. Walter Adams of Hoosick Falls, N. Y., Dalton Currence of Elkins, W. Va. and Sven Johnson of Jewett City, Conn. will also be on hand to furnish real competition along with other outstanding choppers.

The First Annual Northeastern Championship Contest was held at the Eastern States Exposition in Springfield, Mass., in September 1956. A crowd of 3,000 gathered in the Coliseum on a very rainy day and cheered with enthusiasm as chopping and sawing champions from various Northeastern states matched their skill and strength to decide the championship of the Northeast.

The Second Annual Championship Contest was held at MacArthur, Ohio, in September, 1957 as part of the program of the Paul Bunyan Exposition. Choppers and sawyers from several states engaged in exciting contests again to decide the Northeastern Championships.

The five events are chopping, crosscut sawing, chain sawing, log rolling and tree felling.

The committee in charge of this championship contest is composed of Fritz Tolle of Pownal, Vt., chairman; John Hovak of Broadalbin, N. Y., vice chairman; Marshall Case of Troy, Pa., Master of Ceremonies; Lewis M. Stevens nor his predecessor, Joseph J. Lawler, would offer a reason for the keeping of the report from public view for so long.

The report was obtained from sources other than the Highways Department with the express provision that they not be identified.

The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads already has on the drafting boards a plan to link the Turnpike with Wheeling, W. Va., by making U. S. 40 an interstate highway through Washington, Pa.

Soap Box Winner Will Ride in the Pasadena Parade

DETROIT — The boy who wins the 21st All-American Soap Box Derby at Akron on August 17 will get a starring role in the world-famous Tournament of Roses at Pasadena, Calif., next New Year's Day.

The 1958 champion will ride with Roy Rogers and Dale Evans atop a special Soap Box Derby float being entered in the parade by Chevrolet, national sponsor of the great amateur racing event for boys.

This announcement was made by W. G. Power, Chevrolet advertising manager and executive director of the All-American.

After appearing on the float with the cowboy star and his wife, where he will be seen by nationwide television audience, the champion will be a special guest at the Rose Bowl football game.

Plans for the Soap Box Derby float already are under way, Power said. It is expected to contain some 60,000 live flowers, arranged to depict the championship race at Derby Downs with the three finalists' cars coming down the hill.

Secret Engineering Report Concedes Shortway Would Divert Traffic From Pike

HARRISBURG (AP) — A secret engineering report concedes that the Keystone Shortway would divert traffic from the Pennsylvania Turnpike. But it says this can be offset by building a high-speed highway link from the Turnpike into West Virginia and southern Ohio.

The report, prepared by Michael Baker, Jr., Rochester, for the State Highways Department, has been kept under wraps since it was prepared in June, 1957.

The report favored locating the Shortway on the now-approved Sharon - Stroudsburg route rather than along U. S. Route 6 in the northern tier counties. It said:

"When completed, the Keystone Shortway would intercept traffic now using the Pennsylvania Turnpike. However, it also should be noted that the proposed development of U. S. 40 as an interstate highway—from Pennsylvania west through West Virginia and Ohio—would attract a large volume of new traffic to the Turnpike at New Stanton to offset any traffic diverted to the Keystone Shortway.

"... At the present rate of traffic increase, the Turnpike will need traffic relief by the time the Keystone Shortway would be ready for service." The proposed completion date is 1972.

Philadelphia interests have proclaimed that the Shortway would funnel traffic off the Turnpike and thereby hurt economically the port of Philadelphia.

The secret Baker report said the Sharon - Stroudsburg route would provide the shortest distance for interstate traffic between New York and Chicago. This issue has been the core of Philadelphia opposition.

Bitter Strike in Steel Industry Forecast in '59

NEW YORK (AP)—There's a BITTER—24... good chance that next year's battle for a steel wage hike will end in a bitter strike, the Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, said today.

The current furor in Washington over steel price boosts "may have a good long-run effect" from the viewpoint of steel management, Iron Age asserted.

"When steel labor contracts are reopened next year, the steel companies will be no pushover for Dave McDonald's United Steelworkers," the publication said. "They'll fight for a settlement that will preclude any need for higher prices. And the chances are good that the battle will wind up in a bitter strike."

Iron Age said the steel price increases just announced in the industry will stick, in spite of the uproar in Washington.

"Steel firms are well armed with evidence to justify the average price boost of about $4.50 a ton," it said. "One of their biggest weapons is the fact that at least five companies were in the red during the first six months of the year—before the full impact of higher steel wages hit them on July 1. The earnings of even the major steel firms dropped drastically from last year."

"As it is, the price hike was 'too little and too late' in the thinking of most steel firms. It came 30 to 35 days after the rise in employment costs and was less than half what the majority of companies claim they need to maintain an adequate profit position. As a result, many firms face tough financial sledding in the months ahead—even with the price boost."

Boyle's Comment

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It isn't the people who are off on vacation who cut down the efficiency of the average business office this time of year.

It's the people who are just back from vacation — and can't keep from talking about it on company time.

During his two-week summer vacation Jim Jukes goes on an auto tour of the West, and during a descent into the Grand Canyon almost falls off a mule. Well, naturally, to Jim this is the most exciting event in the history of travel since Burton Holmes discovered the spoken word.

Suppose there are 124 people in the office besides Jim. Jim is going to buttonhole 120 of them—all except the four he isn't speaking to because he owes them money—and spend a full hour with each telling his dramatic experience, over and over, always leading up to that terrible moment.

"The mule stumbled, I fell almost out of the saddle, and, boy, did I wish I was back in the good old office again!"

By the time he himself wearies of telling about his adventure, half his bored coworkers are mailing insulting letters to the mule, denouncing it as an enemy of the human race for not kicking Jukes into the canyon in the first place.

Jukes spent only two weeks on vacation but 120 hours—or three more weeks—bragging about it. It also took 120 hours of other people's time to hear him out. So altogether the firm lost the services of one employee for a total of six extra weeks.

What is the answer? The solution is simple. Each employee would be given a free extra week if he signed an agreement not to mention his vacation aloud in the office on his return—on pain of dismissal.

During the extra allotted week he would stay home and fill out a vacation information form to be posted on the bulletin board by the office water cooler.

"All right, where did you go?"

"How many miles per gallon did you average?"

"Have any flat tires — besides the one in the back seat?"

"Check any illnesses suffered by the family. Poison ivy? Colic? Cholera? Sunburn? Scow blindness?"

"Tell us any humorous or unusual experiences—not to exceed 50 words."

If all the offices in America adopted this vacation information card system, U.S. industry would save billions of dollars in lost time annually—and also boost employee morale.

Proposal Studied To Increase Pay For Dependents

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Public Welfare Department today studied a proposal to greatly increase state payments to counties for care of dependent, neglected and delinquent children.

The proposal also called for the abandonment of direct legislative grants to the child care institutions and recommended that state payments be made on the basis of institutional standards.

The recommendations were contained in a report on a recent study made for the department by the government consulting service of the University of Pennsylvania. The report was presented to department officials in a meeting Tuesday with representatives of eight institutions.

The report said the new system would provide incentives for institutions to meet or better minimum standards. Payments would be made only to institutions meeting minimum standards and higher payments would be made to institutions with conditions better than the minimum.

Urges Study Made Of Illegitimacy By Welfare Dep't

HARRISBURG (AP)—Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith said today the state's first responsibility is to see that public assistance is administered "in a way that encourages a self respect, self dependency and a desire to be a good and useful citizen."

In a letter to Harry Shapiro, public welfare secretary, Smith urged that a study be made of the entire problem of illegitimacy.

He called attention to the Public Assistance Appropriation Act which provides that half of one per cent of the funds may be used at the governor's will for such studies.

The fund came under discussion recently when the district attorney of Philadelphia criticized the method of paying public assistance to unwed mothers.

MONEY FOR BLIND

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Department of Public Instruction has disclosed it will provide $20,000 in aid to 48 blind or deaf students who are bound for college next month.

Individual allotments range up to $500 to 33 blind students and 15 deaf students. They will receive training in teaching, social work, engineering, vocational counseling and other fields.

Sen. Knowland Dominates California's G.O.P. Meeting

By MORRIS LANDSBERG
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California Republicans came away from their convention with a new labor platform, a new chairman and a ringing challenge for a series of debates.

It was firmly Sen. William F. Knowland's show.

He got the labor plank he wanted—and Gov. Goodwin Knight didn't. His choice, 32-year-old George W. Milas, Jr., was elected state chairman, not that he had any opposition.

About all Knowland didn't get was a "yes" from Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, his Democratic opponent for governor, on his proposal for a statewide series of campaign debates.

Brown, who ran 660,000 votes ahead in the two-party primary total, called it a cheap bid by Knowland to "pull himself out of the political mire on my bootstraps."

Heeding the Republican senator's plea, delegates wrote established party support of the union shop out of the new state platform. They agreed too to a policy of neutrality on the "right-to-work" initiative, hot-temper issue of the November election campaign.

Knight, eyeing his labor support in his U. S. Senate race, unsuccessfully took the floor Saturday night to argue in behalf of the union shop clause. He warned the repudiation would hurt GOP candidates' quest for labor votes.

The plank he espoused was defeated 79 to 18.

Knight is against the initiative—Proposition 13—which would outlaw the union shop in California. So are most other Republican candidates. Only Knowland, among the top office-seekers, is for it.

The convention's hands-off on "right-to-work" was frankly intended to protect Knowland's labor stand in his campaign for governor. Rising to oppose Knight, he said it would be inconsistent for the party to favor the union shop while professing neutrality on "right-to-work."

Knowland and his supporters held that the GOP had no business taking a stand on "right-to-work" since it has been submitted to the voters for decision.

Brown complained that Knowland used the big lie technique in his Sunday speech before the Republican State Central Committee in which he charged the Democratic attorney general for a rise in the California crime rate.

Knowland asserted that Brown, as the state's chief law enforcement officer, has failed to cope with a reported influx of Eastern and Midwestern mobsters.

State Has Largest Increase U. S. Census Figures Reveal

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Department of Commerce said Monday that U. S. Census Bureau figures on manufacturing in Pennsylvania and other states gave a lift to all those seeking to attract new industry to the state.

Secretary William R. Davlin said the census reports showed Pennsylvania had the largest increase in manufacturing employment between 1955 and 1956 of any of the states in the eastern market region.

"These figures," Davlin said in a statement, "give a lift to all of those who are so hard at work in Pennsylvania communities, the utilities and railroads, the industrial realtors and the state government to foster the stability and growth of industry."

The figures, he said "give us a sharp reminder of the absolute importance of established Pennsylvania industry as a source of the new business and employment opportunities so sorely needed."

Davlin said the Census Bureau reported an average of 1,566,957 employees in manufacturing in Pennsylvania in that period, a gain of 55,668 or 3.7 per cent; New York 2,078,312, a gain of 38,477 or 1.9 per cent, and Ohio 1,379,893, a gain of 30,671 or 2.3 per cent.

The total increase in the value added by manufacture between 1955 and 1956 in Pennsylvania, Davlin said, was exceeded only by California and New York.

The increase for Pennsylvania, he said, was $97,897,000 for a total of $12,017,616,000.

Davlin said the census figures for those years came too soon "to reflect the tax change recommended by Gov. Leader's Tax Advisory Committee and put into effect by the 1957 session of the General Assembly."

"We already are looking forward to next year's comparisons. They certainly will reflect the great advantages that are now in effect because of Pennsylvania's new tax climate."

When you happen to see a person you suspect will not recognize or remember you, forego the temptation to go up to him and say, "I'll bet you don't remember me." Why cause embarrassment, when you could make it easy for him by saying, "I'm Susie Brown and I haven't seen you since we were classmates at City High."

That not only tells him your name, but it also places the name so he doesn't have to struggle wondering where he ever knew you.

Newspaper Cites Need To Replace Tionesta Bridge

The following, which appeared as an editorial in The Derrick, printed at Oil City, will be read with interest by motorists who have occasion to drive in the vicinity of the bridge that crosses the Allegheny at Tionesta:

Opening by the State Highway Department this month of bids for the construction of two more major bridges on the state highway system brings to eleven the number of large bridge construction projects under way in the Commonwealth.

Significant, none of the bridge projects are anywhere within striking distance of this area of Pennsylvania, although we have some archaic structures in these parts that should have been replaced long ago. In fact, the Highways Department itself has recognized the situation but it seems we just can't get beyond the point of recognition, and planning.

Take, for example, that monstrosity called a bridge which crosses the Allegheny at Tionesta. There's an antiquated structure, if we ever saw one, which doesn't even come close to meeting the demands of modern traffic.

The bridge is narrow and hazardous, its approaches are dangerous, and it is an eyesore to the community and the area it serves. It should have been replaced long ago.

For a time last year, it looked as though things were moving toward early replacement of the old structure. Test drillings were carried out, location and type of bridge considered. Hopes were held out that a new bridge might be in place before the oil industry's centennial celebration next year.

But there's still no assurance, no certainty as to when there'll be a new bridge. The project just seems to be hanging in the balance while millions upon millions are being poured into new structures in the Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and Harrisburg areas, in particular.

The Tionesta bridge is of utmost importance in the flow of traffic in this area of the state. Two important state highways—Route 6 and the Colonel Drake Highway—cross it. Its replacement is a "must" to an adequate road development program in this area.

Maybe the Tionesta bridge doesn't rate in importance with the Highways Department as do the bridges now under construction. But it's every bit as important in the eyes of citizens in this section of Commonwealth.
